OF MODERN LANGUAGE STUDIES
PREFACE.

The purpose of this study is not a minute examination of all the dialects in the territory indicated. If such were the case the work, instead of being in one small volume, would cover many and instead of being published after a few years of investigation, it would require a lifetime for its completion. The writer will be content if he succeeds in giving the reader a general idea of the dialectic peculiarities to be found in Central Italy and if with the information herein contained, the reader may be enabled to identify a given text or a given pronunciation as coming from a certain province. For this purpose a treatment of phonological phenomena is sufficient and the writer does not attempt to deal with dialectic vocabularies which would necessarily be incomplete and unsatisfactory. It would indeed be unwise for a foreigner to attempt such a task.

Many of the Central Italian and Abruzzese dialects have been ably treated by the scholars best fitted to write of them, that is, by natives of that territory. The information contained in these studies has been freely used. In cases where the author considered the development noted to be extraordinary he has gone personally to verify it, but generally he might have dispensed with so doing, for the work had been excellently done. The list of articles used will be found in the bibliography appended to this preface.

In order to retain as nearly as possible the orthography of the dialect literature it has been deemed advisable not to attempt to use a phonetic alphabet. The words are to be pronounced according to Italian standards of pronunciation. In the article on Tuscan, however, H, a simple aspirate (cf. English H) is differentiated from the harsh velar H (cf.
PREFACE

German CH). In the chapters on Abruzzese and Neapolitan open E and O are indicated by the grave accent (') and close E and O by the acute ("'). Where no accent is given the pronunciation of the accented vowel has been noted to vary between open and close. Close A, where it occurs is indicated by A. Palatal S is shown by S. Indistinct vowels are shown as A, E, I, O, U.

INTRODUCTION.

DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY.

One of the most interesting fields for dialect study to-day is that offered by Central Italy. Here we can study the phonological developments with a fair degree of accuracy and certainty, starting with a well-established pronunciation of the Latin of Imperial times, and whenever and wherever foreign influence makes itself felt, we know its date and its extent.

There are many factors in dialect development, the most important being racial. When Latin was learned by the Goth or the Lombard, we should hardly expect him to speak it with a Ciceronian accent, but rather that he should preserve some of the tendencies of the Germanic languages in his speech. Even phonetic laws of development may be transferred locally from one language to another in this way. It would not be surprising then that the main dialect divisions of our territory should be determined by such foreign influence.

When the Germanic tribes came into Italy, the first important barrier to their progress that they found was the main chain of the Apennines, stretching across the peninsula from the Mediterranean nearly to the Adriatic. This range sharply divides the Northern from the Central Italian dialects.

Once in Tuscany, their advance to the South as far as Rome and the Alban Hills was unimpeded, but their progress towards the East and Southeast was again stopped by the mountains on the frontier of the Abruzzi. This barrier marks the dividing line between Central Italian and the Neapolitan group of dialects.
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

Roughly speaking, our territory is thus divided into two parts, Central Italian, which includes Tuscany, Umbria, Latium, and the Marches of Pesaro and Ancona, and Neapolitan, which includes the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Chieti, Teramo, and the Marches of Ascoli and Macerata.

But the Neapolitan territory should again be divided and the reason for this subdivision is chronologically anterior to that for the division into Central Italian and Neapolitan. In pre-Latin times Oscan was the speech of this territory, the Oscan itself being more or less divided into dialects. When Rome gained the supremacy, it forced the Latin language upon the rest of Italy so that most of the Italian tribes spoke it fairly well; but the savage and mountainous country of the Abruzzi was never fully romanized and its inhabitants spoke a Latin which is described to us as being crude and barbarous. On the other hand Terra di Lavoro and Naples were completely latinized and Naples itself was a centre of culture second only to Rome. Thus we have three important dialect divisions, Central Italian, Neapolitan, and Abruzzese.

Literature, both popular and learned, is an important leveling influence in language development. Dante so crystalized the literary Tuscan that since his time it has changed less than French since the time of Rabelais. The educated Neapolitan or the educated Abruzzese reads his Dante and other works of Italian literature, learns Italian, and when he speaks his dialect he carries over words and expressions from the literary language. Thus we may expect to find Tuscan borrowings in all the dialects.

But Neapolitan also has its literature which, although not so rich as the Tuscan, is extremely popular. Consequently, we are not surprised to note its influence upon other dialects, especially in Molise and the Abruzzi which were for so long a time under the political control of Naples.

In some parts of the territory, classical learning is of importance as a retarding influence in the development of the dialect, since consciousness of the Latin form may serve to check the normal phonetic development. Naturally the districts in which this occurs are usually very small and frequently present two strata of words: patrician (which show the retarding influence of the Classical form) and plebeian (which usually show normal phonetic development and which represent the vocabulary of the lower classes). Frequently we find patrician and plebeian forms existing side by side, sometimes with the same meaning, sometimes differentiated in meaning.

(Neap. FRATO (patrician), SCIATO (plebeian), fiato; PREBBA (patrician), bassa gente, CHIEVE (plebeian), commune, communità (Lat. plebem).

The most important places in which Classical influence is to be noted are Cortona (Upper town), Assisi, Chieti, Cassino, and Naples (especially the sezioni of Chiaja, San Giuseppe, and Porta Capuana).

In Cortona, Assisi, Chieti, and Cassino the Classical influence was due to the monasteries. Consequently it was more or less restricted to the dependencies of those institutions and made itself felt only in vocabulary. In Naples, however, it was quite different. Here Classical learning had never completely died out and we even find a retention of the old "quantitative accent" or vowel quantity of the Classic Latin. Then, as Neapolitan became a language of considerable literary importance, many of its patrician words were borrowed by other dialects, especially within the Kingdom of Naples. We may even suppose in our study of the dialects of the Abruzzi and Molise that the Neapolitan system of accentuation was for some time prevalent throughout the major part of the territory, for otherwise it would be very difficult to explain many of the regular phonetic developments in these regions.

There is perhaps no more fundamental determinant in the development of a language than its accent. The development of every sound in a language is directly dependent upon the force expended in pronouncing it and the time employed in doing so. Generally speaking, when no strong stress is used the flow of language will be softer and more even, the explosion of the consonants will have less force, and their development will be less dependent upon their position, since in initial position they will have no more force than when medial and will therefore undergo approximately the same changes. Only slight stress being used, aspirates do not appear and voiceless consonants, losing their force of breath, become weaker than the voiced; therefore a consonant is on its way to disappearance when from voiced it becomes voiceless. The quantity of a syllable will seldom be shortened since, if the vowel for any reason loses its length, the consonant immediately following is doubled in compensation. Syncope is less frequent inasmuch as, there being no strongly stressed syllable, the unstressed syllables are less slighted. These rules all apply to Neapolitan.

In Central Italy there are two remnants of the quantitative "accent"; (1) the retention of the double consonants, which tend to disappear under a strong stress accent and which have disappeared almost entirely in Northern Italy, (2) the distinct pronunciation of unaccented syllables which are slighted and even disappear in the North.
CHAPTER I.

CENTRAL ITALIAN DIALECTS.

The Central Italian group of dialects, or lingua toscana, may be roughly described as the vernacular speech of the provinces of Tuscany, Umbria, Ancona, and Latium.

Dividing this territory into two almost equal parts, there rises the range of Monte Amiata, continued to the East by the Umbrian highland. The dialects spoken to the North of this line may be called Tuscan while those to the South may be classed as Roman.

The chief divergences to be found between the spoken language (or Lingua Toscana) as a whole and the Literary Italian are:

1) The dropping of the final -RE of the infinitive which is almost universal in verbs of the first conjugation and very frequent in those of the second and third. This tendency is less marked in the Montagna Lucchese and the Montagna Pistojese. It is also a characteristic of Neapolitan and Abruzzese.

2) The confusion between L and R before consonants or when final, the pronunciation tending towards R except in Pisa and Livorno where it is often difficult to distinguish which is used. In the Montagna Lucchese and the Montagna Pistojese L and R are however usually differentiated.

The Masculine Singular definite article is ER.

AR, al; COR, col; ARTRO, altro; QUARCUNO, qualcuno.

THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

(Pisa, Livorno) 1 TOLNA(RE), tornare; TULCO, turco.

3) The development of NGE, NGI into GN (NY) which is common except in the vicinity of Pisa and Livorno. PIAGNE(RE); SPEGNE(RE).

TUSCAN DIALECTS.

C intervocalic before E and I is pronounced as SC ($). C before A, O, or U is an aspirate (H, $). CC intervocalic before E and I is pronounced as TSC (TS). Diminutives in -INO.

Circumlocution NOI SI VA, NOI SI PARLA.

The most striking characteristics of the Tuscan group of dialects are:

1) The pronunciation of C intervocalic before E or I as if it were SC.
   DICE (pronounced DISCE), while CC in the same position is pronounced as TSC.
   CACCIA, cf. CACIO (pronounced CASCIO).

2) The aspiration of C before A, O, and U.
   CASA (pronounced CHASA and even $ASA).

3) The very frequent use of diminutives in -INO.
   BELLINO; POCHINO; PIANINO; PICCINO.

4) The use of circumlocutions to avoid the first person plural in -IAMO.
   NOI SI VA; NOI SI PARLA, &c.

The Roman dialects on the other hand pronounce C intervocalic before E and I as if it were TSC, C before A, O, and U as K (without aspiration), use diminutives in -ETTO (RAGAZZETTO; POCHETTO; &c.) often discarding a diminutive which can only be formed with -INO, and freely use the first person plural in -IAMO, -AMMO, -AMO.

1 When examples are common to most of the territory they are given without any note thereof; when, however, they are distinctly local the place is noted in parentheses.
The Tuscan dialects may be roughly divided into:

I. Pistoiese, spoken in Pistoja and the mountains to the North and West.

II. Florentine, spoken in the middle Valdarno and Northern Chianti.

III. Siennese, spoken in the central Tuscan Highland and the valley of the Ombrone.

IV. Arettine, spoken in the upper Valdarno, the Val di Chiana, and the upper Val di Tevere.

V. Perugian, spoken in the vicinity of Perugia and as far as Lago Trasimeno.

VI. Lucchese, spoken in Lucca and the Apuan Alps. (Separated from Pisan by the Monte Pisano and a malarial region between the Arno and the Serchio.)

VII. Pisan, spoken in the lower Valdarno. (Separated from Livornese by a malarial district.)

VIII. Livornese, spoken in Livorno and the Montagna Livornese.

I. PISTOIESE.

The language of the Montagna Pistoiese differs but little in pronunciation from the literary standard.

C before A, O, and U is but slightly aspirated. (K, KH).

CHASA; CHASERMA; CHOME; CURA(RE), CHURA(RE).

Note.) The dialect of the city of Pistoja may change C before A, O, or U into a spirant (h) when initial or intervocalic or may lose it entirely. (K>KH, h, or disappears).

C before E and I develops as in the rest of Tuscany; i.e., intervocalic it is pronounced as if it were SC (S), while initial or after consonants it is pronounced as TSC (TS).

DOLCEZZA; CERTO; FACE(V)A; (the spellings DOLCIEZZA, CIERTO, FACIEVA, FACIEA not representing the true pronunciation but being simply analogical).

G before A, O, and U is occasionally aspirated. (G>G or GH).

PAG(H)A(RE); AG(H)O.
LY intervocalic usually becomes GLI (L) as in the literary language, but occasionally we find GGHI (GY) as in Vulgar Florentine (San Frediano).

MEGLIO, MEGGHIO; SVEGLIA, SVEGGHIA.

QU is aspirated like C before A, O, and U and may even become H. (KW> KHW, HW, H).

QUHANTITA, HUANTITA, HANTITA; QHUELLO, HUELLO, HELLO; CONQHUISTA, CONHUISTA, CONHISTA.

-ARIUM occasionally becomes -AGLIO. This is also true in the Montagna Lucchese.

MACELLAGLIO (macellarium); ACQUAGLIO (aquarium); ACCIAGLIO (acierium).

T intervocalic is occasionally aspirated (TH), though this is not usually shown in the writing.

Italian V intervocalic, whatever be its source, often disappears as in the neighboring dialects.

POERO (pauperum); DEOTO, DOVUTO; AUTO (habutum); AÆ(RE), AVE(RE).

One of the most marked peculiarities of the Pistojease is the careful open pronunciation of final unaccented A. In Pistojease, as in most of the other Tuscan dialects a final accented vowel may develop an indistinct vowel sound following it. Then, especially after close E, a Y glide may develop between the two vocalic elements.

PUÖE, puö; FAQE, fa; MÈJE, me; TÈJE, te.

Porretta is no longer Tuscan, but Gallo-Italian in its speech, while Montale Pistojease shows traces of Florentine influence.

II. Florentine.

Adjacent to the Pistojease on the East and South is the Florentine. The differences between these two dialects are very marked. The most noticeable are:

1) The harsh velar pronunciation of C (H) before A, O, and U which is to be heard in Florence, Vicchio, Palazzuolo, and Certaldo. It is noticeably different from the softer aspiration (H) of the Pistojease, Siennese, and Pisan.
CENTRAL ITALIAN DIALECTS

2) LY intervocalic regularly becomes GGHI (GY) instead of GLI (L).
   MEGGHIO, meglio; SVEGGHIA, sveglia.
   Note.) This change is noticed at Montale and takes place in Vicchio, Palazzuolo, and Certaldo. (Marradi and Rocca San Casciano are in Gallo-Italian territory and present GI (G); MEGIO). It also occurs in Arettine, being common in Arezzo, Cortona, Castiglione Fiorentino, Città di Castello, San Sepolcro, and as far as Sant’Agata Feltria and Urbania Marchigiana. In Luccan territory it occurs in Massa Lunigiana and Montignoso. In Florence it is to be found in the quarters surrounding the Mercato San Frediano.

3) T intervocalic is strongly aspirated in Florence, Vicchio, and Certaldo, and is sometimes pronounced as English TH (in thin), sometimes as H.
   ARRIVATHA; DATHO; ANDATHO.

III. SIENNESE.

Siennese presents few differences from the Pistojese, but is quite different from the vulgar Florentine.

1) C before A, O, and U is pronounced as English H or disappears.
   (H)ASA, casa; (H)OME, come; (H)URA(RE), curare.

2) G before A, O, and U remains without aspiration.
   PAGARE(RE); AGO.

3) LY intervocalic becomes GLI (L).
   MEGLIO; SVEGLIA.

4) QU is aspirated and may become HU. (KW, KHW, HW).
   (Q)HUANTITA; (Q)HUELLO.

5) -ARIO becomes -AIO as in Florentine.

6) T intervocalic may only be slightly aspirated (TH).

7) Italian V intervocalic often disappears as in Florentine and Pistojese.
8) Diminutives in -INO are especially frequent. DIO (H)ANINO, cf. Florentine DIO HANE, Dio cane.

IV. Arettine.

1) C before A, O, and U is not usually aspirated, but frequently becomes a weak G.
   GASA, casa; DIGO, dico; POGO, poco; MIGA, mica.
2) G before A, O, and U remains.
   PAGA(RE); AGO.
3) LY intervocalic usually becomes GGHI (GY) as in Vulgar Florentine. See above.
4) QU may become GU.
   GUANTITÀ, quantità; GUELLO, quello.
5) -ARIO becomes -AIO as in Florentine and Siennese.
6) Intervocalic T remains without aspiration. In the Northern and Northeastern part of the Arettine territory we frequently find D.
   DISPERÈTA, DISPERÈDA, DISPERATA.
7) Italian V. intervocalic often disappears as in Florentine, Pistojese, and Siennese.
   POERO, povero; AUTO, avuto; A(V)È(RE).
8) An A- is often developed before initial R. This tendency is to be found also in the Roman group of dialects and East of a line running from near Corneto between San Lorenzo Nuovo and Orvieto, East of Acquapendente, Santa Fiora, and Arcidosso, West of Chiusi, Cortona, Castiglione Fiorentino and Palazzuolo, but East of Vicchio.
   AR(I)TORNA(RE); AR(I)VEDE(RE).
9) Tonic free A shows a tendency to become Æ, È.
   GRÈZIA, grazia; AREGNÆVA, regnava; DISPERÈTA, disperata.
10) Tonic open E shows a tendency to become IE when the final syllable contained an I or O (U) element.

PIERDO, perdo; VIENGO, vengo; CIERTO, CERTA, CIERTI, CERTE.

11) Latin IN- before a consonant becomes AN- and IM- becomes AM- under the same circumstances.

ANGIURIANDO, ingiuriando; ANSEGNÈTE, insegnate; AMPARÆRE, imparare.

12) In Cortona (upper town) we notice a tendency to affix -NE to words ending in an accented vowel. This termination is common in a large part of the Roman territory. In Arezzo we find -E, -JE as in Florentine and Pistoiese.

(Cortona) RÈNE, re; PUONE, puô; MÈNE, me; TÈNE, te.
(Arezzo, &c.) RÈJE; PUOE; MÈJE; TÈJE.

V. PERUGIAN.

1) C before A, O, and U is sometimes pronounced as G.

CASA, GASÀ; DICO, DIGO; POCO, POGO; FORCA, FORGA.

2) LY intervocalic becomes GLI (L) or J (Y), seldom GGHI.

MEGLIO, MEJO; SVEGLIA, SVEJA.

3) QU occasionally becomes GU.

QUANDO, GUANDO; QUANTITA, GUANTITA.

4) -ARIUM becomes -AIO as in Florentine, but occasionally -ARO.

MACELLAIO, MACELLARO; FORNAIO, FORNARO.

5) Intervocalic T remains.

PARLATO; FINITO.

6) Italian V intervocalic, whatever its source, may disappear.

POERO, povero; ÁUTO, avuto.

7) PerugianARI- initial (from Latin RE-) becomes AR-.

ARTORNA(RE), ritornare; ARVEDE(RE), rivedere.
8) Tonic free A remains.
GRAZIA; DISPERATA; ANDATA.

9) Open E usually becomes IE, open O becomes UO, close E often becomes I, and close O often becomes U under the accent if the following final syllable presents an I or O (U).
PRIEGO, prego; TIEMPO, tempo; VIENGO, vengo;
CIERTO, CERTA.
CUORO, coro; CORE, cuore.
QUISTO, QUESTA.
UGNI, ogni.

10) Latin IN-, IM- remain before consonants.

VI. Luccan.

Luccan presents the following characteristics.

1) C before A, O, and U is changed into a sound resembling English H or disappears.
(H)ASA, casa; (H)OME, come; (H)URA(RE), curare.
Note.) We also find CHASA; CHOME; CHURA(RE).

2A) Latin CY, TY become SS, SSI, SI.
SCORSA, scorta; TERRASSO, terazzo; PIassa, piazza;
FORSa, forza; CONDISIONE, condizione; GRASIA, grazia.

2B) Latin DY becomes SS or 22.
MESSO, ME22O; RASSO, raggio; MERRI22O, meriggio.
Note.) In SCORSA, FORSA we see the SS simplified after a consonant.

3) Latin LY usually results in GLI (L) but in some parts of the Montagna Lucchese we find J(Y). In Massa and Montignoso we find GGHI, and in Carrara GI.
(Montagna Lucchese) FOGLIO, FOJO; MEGLIO, MEJO.
(Lucca) FOGLIO; MEGLIO.
(Massa, Montignoso) FOGGHIO; MEGGHIO, MEGHDO.
(Carrara, &c.) FOGIO, MEGIO.

4) N or NN may become ND, M or MM may become MB.
CENTRAL ITALIAN DIALECTS

INDATO, innato; COOMBERO, cocomero; STOMBAGO, stomago.

5) Italian QU becomes HU or U.
   (H)UARANTA; (H)UANTITA; (H)UELLO.
   Note.) Occasionally we hear QHUARANTA; QHUAN-TITA, &c.

6) -ARIUM becomes -AIO or -AGLIO.
   CARBONAIO, CARBONAGLIO; ACQUAIO, ACQUA-GLIO.
   Note.) Analogously we have -OIO, -OGLIO.
   CUOIO, CUOGLIO.

7) Italian V intervocalic often falls.
   POERO, povero; RICEUTO, ricevuto; ALTRŒ, altrove.

8) Initial V and B are often confused and occasionally intervocalic P becomes F.
   BAFORE, vapore; VIENGO, BIENGO. ¹

9) In the Apuan Alps and along the coast impure S is palatalized.
   SPIA; STIA; SPESSO.

VII. PISAN.

The dialect of Pisa much resembles that of Lucca. There are the following peculiarities to note.

1) C initial before A, O, and U occasionally disappears, but usually becomes a weak H.
   (H)ANE, cane; (H)OME, come; (H)OSI, cosl.
   Note.) CHANE; CHOME; CHOSI are also occasionally heard.

2) C intervocalic before A, O, and U frequently drops.
   ANTIO, antico; DI(H)O, dico.

3) LY intervocalic becomes GLI (L).
   MEGLIO; SVEGLIA.

¹ The diphthongs of VIENGO, PIERDO are analogical in Luccan,
cf. vieni, lieni.
4) Initial QU of the literary language becomes V except after a word which may cause its pronunciation to be reinforced.
   VANTITA, quantità; VESTA, questa; VELLO, quello; but A QUARCHUNO, a qualcuno.

5) -ARIUM becomes -AIO.
   CARBONAIO; FORNAIO.

6) Italian V intervocalic often falls.
   PÓERO, povero; BEÚTO, bevuto.

7) Initial V is often confused with B, and occasionally intervocalic P with F.
   BAFORE, vapore; REFUBBRICA, repubblica.

8A) SS occurs instead of literary ZZ, and S instead of literary Z, from Latin CY, TY (as in Luccan).
   TERRASSO, terrazzo; PIASSA, piazza; SCORSA, scorza.

8B) SS appears instead of literary GG and S instead of G (as in Luccan).
   RASSO, raggio; RASIONE, ragione.

9) NGE, NGI do not become GN.
   PIANGE; MANGIA(RE).

VIII. LIVORNESI.

Livornese has been subject to many foreign influences, especially Venetian, Genoese, and Neapolitan. Its vocabulary contains a great number of borrowed words. Its most striking phonological peculiarities are:

1) Italian S anteconsonantal appears in Livornese as L or LS (LS) (+ a consonant).
   LPASSO, spasso; LTAGIONE, stagione; LBAGLIO, sbaglio; VELTO, VELSTO, questo.

This development is difficult to explain. As S impure was palatalized in Neapolitan, Genoese, and along the Ligurian and the Northern part of the Tuscan coast we may suppose that that was the first step. Then the palatal $S$ may have become semi-vocalized. See Papanti, p. 247 for a description of the resultant sound.

2) $C$ before $A$, $O$, and $U$ may disappear or be retained as a weak aspirate as in Pisan.

(H)ASA, casa; (H)ANE, cane; DI(H)O, dico.

3) $L$Y becomes $GLI$ ($L$) as in Pisan.
MEGLIO; LVEGLIA, sveglia.

4) QU initial appears as $V$ except after words which cause a doubled or reinforced pronunciation.
VELLA; VANDO; but A QUELLA; A QUANDO.

5) -ARIUM becomes -AIO.
FORNAIO.

6) Italian intervocalic $V$ often disappears.
PÔERO, povero; AUÔO, avuto.

7) Initial $B$ and $V$ are often confused, and occasionally intervocalic $P$ and $F$ as in Pisan.
BAFORE, vapore; REFUBBRICA, repubblica.

8) $Z$, ZZ ($TS$, TTS) appear instead of Pisan $S$, SS (from Latin CY, TY, DY).
GIULTIZIA, giustizia; RAZIONE, orazione; PIAZZA.

9) NGE, NGI do not become GN ($NY$).
PIANGE; MANGIA.

10) Final unaccented $E$ (especially in polysyllables) often appears as $I$.
ER CASSIERI, il cassiere; ER POMPIERI, il pompiere.

THE ROMAN GROUP OF DIALECTS.

The Roman group of dialects presents the following peculiarities.

1) ND becomes NN (as in Abruzzese and Neapolitan).
PARLANNO, parlando; MONNO, mondo.
2) LD becomes LL (as in Abruzzese). CALLO, caldo; ARISCALLA(RE), riscaldare; FALLA, falda.

3) MB becomes MM (as in Abruzzese and Neapolitan). PIOMMO, piombo; GAMMA, gamba.

4) Accented open E and O show a tendency towards diphthongization (IE and UO) especially when the vowel of the final syllable was I or O (U). TIEMPO; VIENGO; UOCCHIO; STUORTO, but STORTA.

The Roman territory is less cut up by mountain ranges and other linguistic barriers than is the Tuscan. Politically also it has been less divided, as papal influence always dominated here. Therefore it does not present as many dialectic variations. It may be roughly divided into five parts.

I. ORBITELLANO.
II. ROMANO (Roman).
III. TERNANO.
IV. NETTUNESE.
V. ANCONITANO.

I. ORBITELLANO.

Orbitellano differs from the other Roman dialects in the following points:

1) Latin LY becomes GLI (L) instead of J (Y) as in Rome. MEGLIO; SVEGLIA.

2) Initial RI- remains without developing a prefixed A-. RITUORNO; RISPONNE(RE), rispondere.

3) The termination added to monosyllables ending in an accented vowel is often -E, -JE, instead of -NE. PUÔE, puô; RÊJE, re; TÊJE, te.
II. Romano.

The dialects of the Abruzzi encroach upon the Roman territory to the East, the linguistic barrier being the first range of the Sabine Hills. Thus Arsoli, Fara in Sabina, and Rieti are Abruzzese rather than Central Italian in their speech. These localities present regular diphthongization of accented open E and O under the influence of an I or O (U) in the final syllable and a closing of close E to I and close O to U (rarely A to E) under the same conditions. S anteconsonantal, especially when initial, is somewhat palatalized: G initial before E and I becomes J (Y); J initial remains as J (Y); D initial may be dropped (especially before I) or become a voiced dental spirant, or R; and Latin LY becomes GLI (L). These characteristics are common to Neapolitan and Abruzzese.

TIEMPO; STELLA; UOVO, OVA; CHISTO, CHESTA; (I)NUSTRIUSO, (I)NUSTRIOSA; SPIA; JENTILE; JUSTIZIA; ICE(RE), RICE(RE), dire; MEGLIO.

In Rome itself the following points are to be noted.

1) Latin LY becomes J(Y).
   MEJO, meglio; SVEJA (exvigilia), sveglia.

2) Initial RI- develops a prefixed A- and often loses its I, becoming AR- (as in Arettine, Perugian, and Abruzzese).
   AR(I)TUORNO, ritorno; AR(I)SPONNE(RE), rispondere.

3) Initial R- often develops a prefixed A-.
   ARENNE(RE), rendere; ARÉ, ARRÉNE, re.

4) The termination often added to words ending in an accented vowel is -NE.
   PUÔNE, può; TÊNE, te; MÊNE, me.

5) Intervocalic C before A, O, and U is often confused with G (as in Arezzo and parts of the Abruzzi, also in Neapolitan and Perugian).
   MIGA, MICA; POGO, POCO; DIGO, DICO.
Note.) The Roman dialect, with few variations, is spoken in the Roman Campagna, Viterbo, Orvieto, and Assisii.

III. Ternano.

Ternano is spoken in Terni, Todi, Foligno, and the country immediately surrounding. This dialect differs from the Roman principally in that Latin initial G before E and I becomes J (Y) instead of GI, G, (G), and Latin J initial remains as J (Y) instead of becoming GI, G (G).

JENTILE, gentile; JENTE, gente; JUSTIZIA, giustizia.

Rieti, as has already been noted, is Abruzzese in its speech.

The dialect of Norcia often drops D initial, as does Reatino, but in other respects closely resembles the Ternano.

(D)ICO; (D)UE.

In Terni and Norcia S impure is somewhat palatalized (especially before T, P, and F), but not in Todi.

IV. Nettunese.

Nettunese is spoken South of the Alban Hills. It is on the border between the Roman and Neapolitan territory and therefore may be expected to show some of the peculiarities of each.

In Nettuno, Alatri, San Vito, and Guarcino open E usually develops into closed E (instead of remaining or diphthongizing into IE) when the vowel of the final syllable is I or O (U).

MEDECO, medico; PEDE, PEDI; DENTE, DENTI.

Close E usually becomes I when the vowel of the final syllable is I or O (U).

ISSO, ESSA; PJENA, PJINO; CHISTO, CHESTA, CHISTI, CHESTE.

Open O usually becomes closed (instead of remaining or diphthongizing into UO) when the vowel of the final Latin syllable is I or O (U).

BONO, BONA, BONI, BONE; CORE, CORDI.

Close O usually becomes U when the vowel of the final syllable is I or O (U).

CURIUSO, CURIOSA; SULO, SOLA, SULI, SOLE.
QU initial often becomes CH (K) before E and I.
CHISTO, questo; CHILLO, quello.
Latin LY becomes GLI (L), as in Neapolitan and Literary Italian, instead of J (Y) as in Roman.
MEGLIO; SVEGLIA.
In Alatri and Frosinone, sometimes in Nettuno, we find
J initial instead of Literary Italian G, GI, from Latin G before
E or I or from Latin J.
JENTILE; JENTE, gente; JUSTO, giusto.
Arpino is Neapolitan rather than Central Italian in speech and Anagni is Roman rather than Nettunese.

V. ANCONITANO.

The March of Ancona has no one dialect. It is much cut up linguistically; nevertheless the divergences are scarcely sufficient to make it necessary to treat of the dialects of this small territory under more than one heading in such a brief study as this.

The dialects of Ancona and Falconara differ from those of the rest of the March and from the Roman dialects in general in that they retain ND, LD, and MB.
(Ancona, Falconara) ANDA(RE); CALDO; PIOMBO.
(Osimo, Jesi, Arcevia, Fabriano, Rome, etc.) ANNA(RE);
CALLO; PIOMMO.
The dialects of Osimo, Jesi, Arcevia, and Fabriano palatalize
S impure (especially before T and P).
STA(RE); SPIA; AR(I)SPONNE(RE).
In Arcevia, Fabriano, and Loreto we find initial J instead of Italian G, GI, from Latin G before E and I or Latin J.
JENTE, gente; JENTILE, gentile; JUSTO, giusto.
CHAPTER II.

ABRUZZESE DIALECTS.

Note.) Under this heading it seems advisable to treat of the dialects of the Marches of Macerata and Ascoli and the provinces of Terra di Lavoro and Molise, with occasional references to Neapolitan, as well as the dialects of the three Abruzzi.

Tonic Vowels.

Note.) In the provinces of Teramo, Chieti, and Molise an initial tonic vowel is usually re-enforced either by an aspiration (H) or a J (Y) sound.

(Ter., Ch.) HÀNÈMÈ, anima; HÔME, uomo; JI, hai.
(Atessa) HÀNÈMÈ, anima; HÔME, uomo; HÀJJ, hai.
(Campobasso) JÀNÈMÈ, anima; JÔME, uomo; JÖTTE, otto.

This also frequently occurs when the initial syllable does not bear the primary accent.

JARRUBÌVE, JARRUBÌHE, rubai; ARRÛBE, JARRÛBE, rubo.

A.

I. Tonic A free or checked remains:

1.) When the final unaccented Latin vowel was A.
MMASCIATA, MMASCIATA, ambasciata; DESPERATA, DESPERATE, disperata; CAPA, CAPE, capa; NSULTATA, NSULTATE, insultata.

ABRUZZESE

Note 1.) Bucchianico and Pratola show both Æ (È) and A in the feminine of adjectives (the form with E coming from analogy with the masculine), but only A in the first and third persons of the Imperfect Indicative.

GNURIÆTE, GNURIÊTE, GNURIATE, ingiuriata; NSULTÊTE, NSULTATA, insultata; but CACCIAVE, CACCIAVA, cacciava.

Note 2.) Under the influence of a palatal immediately preceding we have in Campobasso FIÈSCA, fiascone; CHIEZZA, piazza; CHIEJA (Neap. chiaja); in the Abruzzo of Chieti PIÉZZA, piazza, by the side of PROZZE, piazza.

Note 3.) Under the influence of a palatal immediately following we note the forms ÊCQUE, HÈCQUE as co-existent with ACQUE, HACQUE, acqua, in the Abruzzo of Chieti.

Alatri shows CASTEGNA, castagna, and MERCA, marca.

Note 4.) Finamore also notes for Chieti examples showing Ì.

JÔVETE, gavita; SPÔLLA, spalda; HÔMMA, gamba.

Note 5.) -ARIA becomes -ARA, -ARE; and -ARIU becomes -ARO, -ARE.

JENNARO, JENNARE, gennaio; CALLARA, CALLARE, caldaia.

Note 5A.) PER ARIA gives Ch. PEDÌÈREJE, Ter. PELL'ÍREJE, Neap. PER ARIA, the noun ARIA, even in a closely connected adverbial phrase, showing a very different development from the suffix.

Note 5B.) -ARIA and -ARIU sometimes give -ÈRA, -ÈRE and -ERO, -ERE by analogy of confusion with -ERIA, -ERIU. Note that the same thing happens in Italian. CAMBRIÈRA, CAMBRIERE, cameriera, cameriere.)

Note 6.) STÈJJÀ, stava, and DÈJJÀ, dava, (Campobasso) and STÈVÀ and DÈVÀ (Naples and Terra di Lavoro) are probably analogical. The forms in Chieti and Teramo are STATEVE and DÈSSE.

Note 7.) MALUM, pomo, becomes MÈLA. This change is also Tuscan.
2.) when becoming final by the dropping of the final Latin syllable.

BELTA; MAJESTA; AMA(RE); SUPPORTA(RE); CACCIA(RE).

Note.) In Bucchianico we note a tendency toward Æ, E.

CIRCHE(RE), cercare; ARRIGLARE(RE), arreglare.

II. Tonic A free or checked remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata but often becomes Æ and even E in the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti when the final unaccented Latin vowel was E or O (U).

PANE (Ch., Ter. PÆNE); CARNE (Ch., Ter. CÆRNE).

Note 1.) This change is most noticeable in open syllables.

Note 2.) This change is by no means regular as Finamore quotes for Chieti and Teramo PATRE, PUATRE, PETRE, PETRE, POTRE, and even POTRE.

Note 3.) Atessa, Palena, Villa Santa Maria, and Vasto usually retain the A, though somewhat closed. Pratola shows a tendency towards Æ, E.

III. Tonic A free or checked remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata when the final unaccented Latin vowel was I. In Teramo it becomes I under these conditions. In Chieti it becomes I when free in paroxytones, IÆ when checked in paroxytones and either free or checked in proparoxytones.

(Asoni) DESPERATI, disperati; SCILLIRATI, scellerati.

(Bucchianico) DESPERITE, disperati; SCILLARITE, scellerati.

EXAMPLES OF CHANGES.

Paroxytones: Both Chieti and Teramo have FRITE, frati;
SULDITE, soldati; MINE, mani; but in position we find Ch.
CUMBIÈGNE, Ter. CUMBIGNÈ, compagni; Ch. SÎNDE,
Ter. SÎNDE, santi; Ch. CHIÈNDE, Ter. QUÎNDE, quanti;
ABRUZZESE

Ch. PIĒSSE, Ter. PIISSE, passi; Ch. FIETTE, Ter. FITTE, fatti, etc.

Proparoxytones: Ch. IĒSENE, Ter. ISENE, asini; Ch. MERIĒCULE, Ter. MERICULE, miracoli; Ch. DIJĒVULE, Ter. DIJIVULE, diavoli; Ch. JIĒNGELE, Ter. JINGELE, angeli; Ch. PIĒSSERE, Ter. PISSERE, passeri.

Note 1.) The history of ALTERI (v. De Lollis) is interesting. (Arch. Glott. xii).

Note 2.) In the conjugations of verbs this change is much more widespread and Parodi finds it in the dialect of Arpino where IE appears in the Present Indicative and I in the Imperfect and Preterite.

Note 3.) Atessa, Vasto, Canosa, Palena, and Città Sant'Angelo show A, Æ.

E.

(Close).

I. Tonic close E remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Macerata, and Ascoli when the final Latin vowel was not I or O (U).

FEMMENA; CANNELA, candela; RENA, arena; LÉGGE; PUTÉCA, bottega.

Note 1.) In Molise we often find EI in an open penult.

RETA, rete; SÉRA, SÉIRA.

II. Tonic close E usually becomes I in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Macerata, and Ascoli when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

(Sing.) PAÈSE, (Plu.) PAISI, PAISE; (Masc.) ISSO, ÍSSE, (Fem.) ÉSSA, ÉSSE; (Masc. Sing.) CHJINO, CHJINE, (Fem. Sing.) CHJÉNA, CHJÉNE, (Masc. Plu.) CHJIN/, CHJINE, (Fem. Plu.) CHJÉNE.
Note 1.) This tendency extends in some places well into Central Italian territory, being noted as far as Ancona, Sinigallia, Arcevia, Cupramontana, Fabriano, Costacciaro, Perugia, Assisi, Todi, Terni, Rieti, Poggio Molano, Palombara, San Vito Romano, Palestrina, Zagarolo, Albano, and Nettuno.

ISSO, esso; CHILLO, quello; CHIGLI, quegli; CHISTO, questo; ISSI, essi; etc.

Note 2.) This tendency is most marked when the vowel of the final Latin syllable was I, e.g., in the plurals, and in the second person singular of the conjugations. However it may occur even where the word to-day ends in -A having undergone a change in gender.

(Campobasso) CITA, aceto.

Note 3.) Important exceptions are VELENO and VERO.

III. Tonic close E develops in Chietino and Teramano like open E. See below.

Open E.

I. Tonic open E free or checked usually remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata except when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

FRÈVA, febbre; NÈVE; PRÈTA, pietra.

Note 1.) In Molise close E frequently appears.

FÈLE, fiecle; PÈDE, piede; PRÈTA, pietra.

II. Tonic open E usually becomes IE in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

MIEDECO, MIEDECHE, MIERECHO, MIERECHE, medico; TIEMPO, TIEMPE, TIEMBE, tempo; VIECCHIO, VIECCHIE, (Fem. VECCHIA), vecchio; CURTIELLO, CURTIEJO, coltello; PIEDI (Sing. PÈDE); MIEJO, meglio; PIEJO, peggio; etc.

Note 1.) Diphthongization is not regular in the first person singular of the Present Indicative, but occurs in some of the most commonly used verbs.
ABRUZZESE

A(R)R PO, tu A(R)RIEPE, apro, tu apri; but TIENGO, tengo; VIENGO, vengo; etc.

Note 2.) This tendency towards IE extends well into Central Italian territory, being noted as far as Fabriano, Perugia, Todi, Orvieto, Montefiascone, Arpino, and occasionally at Rome. It is however rare in Alatri, San Vito Romano, Guardino, and Nettuno where Close E appears instead of the diphthong.

(Alatri) MEDECO; PEDI, piedi; DENTI.

Note 3.) We sometimes find both forms side by side.
MEDECO, MIEDECO.

Note 4.) Latin EU becoming final becomes IE, and EA becomes ÊJA, ÊJJA under the same conditions.
MIE (meum); MÊJA, MÊJJA (meam).

III. Tonic open or close E becomes Æ in Chietino and Teramano when the final Latin vowel was A, E, or O (U). De Lollis states that this sound is more open when the final vowel was A than when it was E or O (U). He also distinguishes between Chietino ÆI (AI) (in open syllables), Æ (Æ) (in closed syllables), and Teramano A (A).

Note 1.) Finamore quotes examples of E, Ê, ÊE, λ, A, O, O, and UE.

DÈBBELE, DÈBBELE, DÈBBELE, DABBLE, DÈBBLE, DÌBBÈLE, DÌBBÈLE, DUEBBELE, debole; etc.

IV. Tonic close E free or checked becomes I in Chietino and Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.
PÌLE, peli; NÌRE, neri; PÚJITE, poeti; Ch. PRÌNE, Ter. PLÌNE, pieni; Ch. MÌSE, Ter. MÌSE, mesi; MÌSSE, messi.
V. Tonic open E free becomes I in Chietino and Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.

PîDE, piedi.

VI. Tonic open E checked becomes IE in Chietino and I in Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.

Ch. LIÈTTÉ, Ter. LÎTTE, letti; Ch. TIÈMBE, Ter. TÎMBE, tempi; Ch. BIÈLLE, Ter. BÎLLE, belli; Ch. DIÈNDE, Ter. DÎNDE, denti.

VII. In proparoxytones we find Chietino IE, Teramano I.

Ch. MIÈDÈCHE, Ter. MÎDECHE, medici; Ch. PRIÈVETE, Ter. PRIVETE, preti; Ch. DIÈBBETE, Ter. DÎBBETE, debiti.

VIII. Followed by a Y- combination: we have Ch. and Ter. RIZZE (retia); NNÎVEJE (divizia); but CONZEJE (consilium); MEJJE (melius); MARAVEEUJE (mirabilia).

Representing open E: Ch. REMIÈDDEJE, Ter. REMÎDDEJE (rimedium); Ch. CUMMIÈDDEJE, Ter. CUMMÎDDEJE (commedia).

In conjugations we have Ch. and Ter. TÎNGNE, tingo; JARESBEJJE, risveglio; etc., in which the second person singular shows I; but we also have Ch. TIÈNGHE, Ter. TÎNGHE, tengo; Ch. VIÈNGHE, Ter. VÎNGHE; etc., from Latin open E.

I.

Tonic I (Classic Latin long I) remains throughout the territory with but few exceptions.

JENTÎLE, JENDÎLE, gentile; FILO, FILE; HALLÎNA, HALLÎNE, JALLÎNE, GALLÎNA.

Note.) Finamore notes cases showing EI, OI, and AI.

SPEICA, SPAICA, spiga; HALLEINA, HALLAINA, gallina; MEDECEINA, medicina; JENDEILE, gentile; RUMEITE, romito; DOITE, DAITIE, dito; FOILE, FAILE, filo; CIARDAINE, giardino; MATUTAINE, mattutino.

These forms do not however show any regular development or tendency in any extended territory.
O.

(I. Tonic close O remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata when the final Latin vowel was not I or O (U).

ORA; UTTOBRE, ottobre; MÓNDE, monte.

Note 1.) In Molise we frequently find OU in the penult when that syllable is open.

CAFFÓUNÉ, caffone; BUFFÓUNÉ, buffone; and all other words in -ONE.

II. Tonic close O usually becomes U in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

(Masc.) MMEDIÚSO, MMEDIÚSE, invidioso, (Fem.) MMEDIÓSA.

(Sing.) ADDÓRE, odore, (Plu.) ADDÛRE.

(Masc.) SPÚSO, SPÚSE, (Fem.) SPÓSA.

(Masc.) SÚLO, SÚLE, (Fem.) SÓLA.

(Masc.) CURIÚSO, CURIÚSE, (Fem.) CURIÓSA.

(CUJONE, UAGLIONE (Oscan valaemom?).

(Plu.) UAJÕNE, UAGLÍUNE.

(Sing.) REMORE, rumore, (Plu.) REMÛRE.

Note 1.) This tendency extends northward as far as Ancona, Sinigallia, Arcevia, Cupramontana, Fabriano, Norcia, Rieti, Palombara, San Vito Romano, Guarcino, Anagni, and Nettuno, but is not noticeable in Rome, Orvieto, or Perugia.

Note 2.) -ORIO, -ORIA become -URE, -ORA.

CUSATÛRE, CUSATÓRA, cucitore, cucitora.

Note 3.) D'Ovidio notes for Campobasso the irregular plurals NÕME; SPÓSE; second person singulars with UÓ, TU TE NZUÔRE (but is this not probably from Latin open O?); and the irregular forms PREJATÔREJE; MAGNATÔREJE; 'N GERNETÔREJE coming from Latin words in
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

-ORIU in which we may suspect learned influence; and RASUÔLE, rasoio, which may be influenced by the Tuscan.

Note 4.) In Alatri and Arpino we find the plurals MÔNTE; PÔNTE; NÔME.

Note 5.) In the inflection of the verb we find O in the first person, U in the second singular.

M'ADDÔNE, T'ADDÔNE; SPÔSE, SPÛSE, io sposo, tu sposi.

III. Tonic close O is somewhat confused with open O in Chietino and Teramano. See below.

Open O.

I. Tonic open O free or checked usually remains in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata except when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

CORE, cuore; VÔVE, bue; JÔME, ÔME, uomo; SÔRA, SÔRE, suora; PRÔVA, PRÔVE, pruova.

Note.) In Campobasso this O is usually open in proparoxytones and close in paroxytones. (v. D'Ovidio).

II. Tonic open O free or checked usually becomes UO in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata when the final Latin vowel was I or O (U).

(Sing.) CORE, (Plu.) CUORE.
(Masc.) BUONO, BUONE, (Fem.) BÔNA, BÔNE.
(Masc.) CUOCO, CUOCHE, (Fem.) CÔCA, COCHE.
(Sing.) UOVO, UOVE, (Plu.) ÒVA, ÔVE.

UOCCHIO, UOCCHIE, occhio; SUONNO, SUONNE, sonno; PUORCO, PUORCHE, porco, PÔRCA, PÔRCHE, porca.

Note 1.) Diphthongization does not regularly take place in the first person singular of the Present Indicative, but does in the second person.

Note 2.) In Alatri we do not find diphthongization. Some words which present close O (as if from Latin close O) when the termination is -A or -E show U under the influence of a final Latin I or O (U).

FRÓNNA, fronda, FRÚGNI (frondi); MÓNTE, MÓNTI.

Note 3.) The tendency towards UO under the influence of final I or O (U) is noted as far as Ancona, Fabriano, Perugia, Todi, Orvieto, and occasionally at Rome.

Note 4.) In Arpino we find UOE instead of UO before R followed by another consonant.

PUCÉRCHÉ, PUCÉRCO, porco; CUCÉRPE, CUCÉRPO, corpo.

III. Latin tonic open or close O became open O in Chietino and Teramano when the final Latin vowel was A, E, or O. This sound further developed and we have the following list of examples.

Note 1.) Finamore's examples are interesting. He notes UÔRTE, orto; PUÔZZE, pozzo; MUÔRTE, morte; FUÔRTE, forte; DUÔLGE, dolce; 'NBUÔRTE, importa; SUÔLDE, solde; DÔLGE, dolce; URSÔGNE, Orsogna; GIÈRNE, giorno; DULÈRE, dolore; AMÈRE, amore; PAS-TÈRE, pastore; ÊRE, ora; PASSIÈNE, passione.

Note 2.) Savini states that in Teramo we have open O from Latin long O (FLÔRE; ÔRE), O from Latin short O (BÔNE; VÒVE; ÔME; JOCHE, gioco), and UO, occasionally O, from Latin O in position (UŌSSE; CUŎRDE; UŎTTE, otto; but LONGHE).

IV. Tonic close O free or checked becomes EU in Chietino and U in Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.

Ch. CANNEUNE, Ter. CANNŬNE, cannoni; Ch. CAFEŬNE, Ter. CAFŎNE, caffoni; Ch. FIEŬRE, Ter. FLŎRE, fiori; Ch. SPEŬSE, Ter. SPŬSE, sposi; Ch. JEŬRNE, Ter. JŎRNE, giorni; Ch. TEŬRDE, Ter. TŎRDE, torti; Ch. LEŬMME, Ter. LŬMME, lombi; Ch. SEŬRGE, Ter. SŬRGE, sorci.

V. Tonic open O free becomes EU in Chietino and U in Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.

Ch. BEŬNE, Ter. BŬNE, boni; Ch. VEOŬVE, Ter. VŬVE, buoi; Ch. PEŬCHE, Ter. PŎCHE, pochi; Ch. NEŬVE, Ter. NŬVE, nuovi.

VI. Tonic open O checked becomes UO in Chietino, U in Teramano when the final Latin vowel was I.

Ch. PUŎRCE, Ter. PŎRCE, porci; Ch. PUŎSTE, Ter. PŬSTE, posti; Ch. STŬRTE, Ter. STŎRTE, storti; Ch. MUŎRTE, Ter. MŬRTE, morti.

VII. In proparoxytones tonic close O free or checked becomes Ch. EU, Ter. U, and tonic open free or checked becomes Ch. UŎ, Ter. U under the influence of a final Latin I.

Ch. GEŬVENE, Ter. GŬVENE, giovani; Ch. FEŬNNECHE, Ter. FŎNNECHE, fondachi; Ch. MUŎNECE, Ter. MŬNECE, monaci; Ch. CUŎDECE, Ter. CŬDECE, codici; Ch. STŬMMECHE, Ter. STŎMMECHE, stomaghi; Ch. JUŎMMENE, Ter. JŬMMENE, uomini; Ch. VRŬCĈHELE, Ter. VRŬCĈHELE, broccoli; Ch. CUŎMMMEDE, Ter. CŬMMMEDE, commodi.

VIII. Followed by a Y combination close O usually results in Chietino EU, Teramano U (just as when the final vowel was I).

THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

Pretonic Vowels.

Initial.

A.

Pretonic initial _A_ usually remains.

AMORE, AMMORE.

Often other pretonic initial vowels become _A._

ACCHIALE, UCCHIALE, occhiale; AS(S)EMPIO (exemplum); ACCIDE(RE), uccidere; ACCASIONE, occasione.

Note.) Often two forms exist side by side.

Sometimes _A_ becomes initial by the loss of an initial consonant (usually _G)._

ALLINA, GALLINA.

Compounds with _A_ + a consonant (from Latin _AD-) are very common.

ADDÔ(VE), dove; ABBADÁ(RE); ATTUNNA(RE). attondare.

Often _A-_ is developed before initial _R._ Then, if followed by a vowel, the _R_ may be doubled. _RI-_ becomes _AR(I)._ Under the secondary accent this _A_ may be re-enforced by an initial aspirate (_H_) or a _Y_ sound (written _J_) in the provinces of Teramo, Chieti, and Molise.

AR(I)TENÊ(RE); AR(I)TORNA(RE); JARRUBÍVE, rubai.

Note 1.) The aspirate or _Y_ sound may develop before _A-_ from other sources in Teramo, Chieti, and Molise.

JACCUSCI, HACCUSCI, cosi, accosi.

Note 2.) This tendency is not as strong in Naples and Terra di Lavoro as elsewhere but Neapolitan AR(R)EPÍ(RE), aprire, perhaps may show metathesis of _R_ and development of initial _A-, or it may be from ADAPRIRE.

Note 3.) The tendency to develop _A-_ before initial _R_ is noted in Central Italian territory East of a line running from near Corneto between San Lorenzo Nuovo and Orvieto, East of Acquapendente, Santa Fiora, and Arcidosso, West of Chiusi, Cortona, Castiglione Fiorentino, Arezzo, and Palazuolo, but East of Vicchio.
ABRUZZESE 43

E.

Initial unaccented E may become A or be lost.
ASTREMÔ (extremum); ASEMPIO (exemplum); ASSUCA(RE), (exsucare); SCI(RE), uscire.

I.

Initial unaccented I usually falls.
NCANTÔ, incanto; NGEGNA(RE), ingegnare.
Note.) In the speech of the educated it is frequently retained.
It sometimes becomes A.
AMMENDA(RE), MMENTA(RE), inventare.

O.

Initial unaccented O usually becomes U, but may fall, or be changed to A.
UCCHIÂTA, occhiata; UBBERIENZA, ubbidienza; UNESTÂ, onesta; UNESTÔ, NÊSTÔ, onesto; NORE, ANNORE, onore; RAZZEJÔNE (orationem); ADDORE, odore.

U.

Pretonic initial U usually remains, but may fall, or be changed to A.
UMORE; NU, uno; NEVERZALE, universale; ASSURPA(RE), usurpare.

Pretonic Vowels Non-Initial.

Pretonic A non-initial remains.
CAPIELLO, CAPPIEJE, cappello; GALANTE, HALANTE.
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

Pretonic E non-initial remains, but may become A before R. In hiatus it becomes I.
NEPÔTE; LENTÉZA; DICIARÀ,.dirà; CRIÀ(RE), CRIJA(RE).

Pretonic I (Classic Latin long I) non-initial usually remains, but occasionally we find E.
FIDA(RE); FIDÚCIA, FEDÚCIA; FINÉZA.

Classic Latin short I (Vulgar Latin E) becomes E.
TENTÔRE; LENZÔLE; LETECA(RE), litigare.

Pretonic O non-initial usually becomes U.
DUTTÔRE, dottore; ADDURÀ(RE), odorare; PURTA(RE).

Pretonic U non-initial remains.
SUPÍNO; MURAGLÌA.

POST-TONIC VOWELS NON-FINAL.

Post-Tonic non-final A, E, and I tend to become E, unless followed by R, in which case the tendency is towards A.
SABBETO, SAPETO, sabato; ÓRGHENO, organo; MMAGENE, imagine; ÚRDEMO, ÚDDÉME, ultimo; GIOVENE, JOVENE, giovine; ELLARA, ELLARE, eidera.

Post-tonic non-final O and U become U (occasionally confused with E).
URACULO; MIRACULO; DIAVULO, DIAVULE, DIAVELE.

POST-TONIC VOWELS FINAL.

Post-tonic vowels final become semi-mute and are often confused.

In Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, Macerata, and Ascoli one can distinguish final A (from Latin A), E (Latin E or I), and O (Latin O or U). Final Neapolitan O is pronounced as an obscure U rather than as O.

In Molise one distinguishes final A (Latin A) and E (Latin E, I, O, and U).
In Teramo and Chieti we find only "E mute" (E) standing for all final unaccented vowels.

INITIAL CONSONANTS.

In dealing with initial consonants we must consider the position of the word in the sentence. At the beginning of a phrase or after a polysyllable we usually find what may be called normal development. After many monosyllables however we notice a re-enforcement of the initial consonant which usually results in gemination. The most important of these words are E (est), E (illi, illae), A (ad), PE (per), CHE (qui, quis, quod, etc.)

B.

Initial B remains, but is often confused with V, occasionally with P, and sometimes (especially in the provinces of Teramo, Chieti, and Molise) with M. Occasionally it disappears in unaccented syllables before U.

(Campobasso) BUÔNE; VÔCCA, bocca; VÔVE, bue; MAMMACIA, bambagia; MEŠCUOTTE, biscotto.

(Alatri) BÔNO; BAMMACIA; VÔVE; VJATO, beato.

(Arpino) BUÔNO; VÔCCA; VJATO.

(Aquila) VÔCCA, BO', vuoi; BOTÊVA, poteva.

(Teramo) BARVE, barba; VÔVE; PESACCE, bisaccio; MESCOTTE, biscotto.

(Chieti) VESACCE, bisaccio; VARVE, barba; PICCHE, becco; MESCOTTE, biscotto; MAMMOCCE, MAMMACE, VAMMACCE, bambagia.

UCCÔNE, boccone, and UTTÔNE, bottone, are heard in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Molise, and Aquila.

When initial B is re-enforced it is regularly doubled.

CHE BBELLEZZA; A CCHÈ BBUONO?

BR initial remains or is confused with VR, sometimes with PR.

(Campobasso) BREJANTE, brigante; VRACCLA, braccia; VRÈCCLA, breccia.
(Alatri, Arpino, Naples, Aquila, Ascoli, Macerata) VRÀCCL4, braccia; VRÈCCIA, breccia; BRUNELLA, PRUNELLA.

(Teramo, Chieti) VRÈCCIE; VRÒCCHELE, broccole.

When re-enforced it becomes BBR.
CHÈ BBREJANTE, CHÈ BBRICANTE, chè brigante.

BL initial becomes J in Neapolitan, GGHI in Molise, BI in most of the provinces of Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, Chieti, Ascoli, and Macerata. It remains BL in a large part of the province of Teramo. When re-enforced it becomes GGHI in Naples and Molise (and the Southern part of Terra di Lavoro), BBI in most of the provinces of Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, Chieti, Ascoli, and Macerata, and BBL in a large part of Teramo.

(Naples) JANCO, bianco; È GGHIANCO, è bianco; JASTEMMA(RE), bestemmiare.

(Campobasso) GGHIÀNGHE (JANCO is probably a borrowing from the Neapolitan), bianco.

(Alatri, Arpino, Aquila, Chieti, Ascoli, Macerata) BIANCO, BIÀNGO; È BBIANCO, È BBIANGO; BIASTEMA(RE).

(Teramo) BLÀNGHE; È BBLÀNGHE; BLASTEMA(RE).

P.

Initial P remains.
PACE; PARLA(RE); PÈCURA; PASSO.

In PUTÉCA, PUTÉCHE P formerly intervocalic but becoming initial has remained. Cf. It. bodega.

In BÎFERE, BBÎFERE quoted by Finamore for Chieti we find an intervocalic development of P due without doubt to analogy with the noun SÒNABIFERE and to frequent use of the phrase SUNA(RE) LU BÎFERE quoted by Finamore.

When re-enforced initial P becomes PP.

PR initial remains. Metathesis of an R final in the syllable or even belonging to the next syllable is possible, resulting in initial PR instead of simple P.
PRÈDECA; PRATO, PRATE; PRÈTA, PRÈTE, pietra.
ABRUZZESE

Note. In Neap. PRÚBBECO, pubblico, Ch. and Ter, PRÚBBECHE, we have metathesis of an R from original L.

When re-enforced initial PR often becomes PPR.

PL initial becomes CHI (KY) in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, and Molise. In the provinces of Latium, Ascoli, and Macerata, and most of Aquila we find PI. In Teramo we find both PL and PI (PY). In the province of Chieti we find PR, PI (PY), CHI (KY).

(Campobasso) CHIÂNE, piano; CHIÂGNE(RE), piangere; CHİÊJA, piaggia.

(Naples) CHİÂNO; CHIÂGNE(RE); CHİAJA.

(Arpino) CHİÂNO; CHIÂGNE(RE); CHİÜMМО, piombo.

(Alatri) PİÂNO; PIÂGNE(RE); PIÜMМО; PIÖVE.

(Aquila) PİÂNO; PIÂGNE(RE); but CHİÜ by the side of PIÜ.

(Ascoli, Macerata) PİÂNO; PIÂGNE(RE); PIÜ.

(Teramo) PIÂNE, PLÂNE; PIÂGNE(RE), PLÂGNE(RE); PIÜ, PLÜ.

(Chieti) PIÂNE, PLÂNE, PRÂNE; PIÂGNE(RE), PLÂGNE(RE), PRÂGNE(RE); PRÂZZA, CHİÊZZA; CHİÜ; E CCHİÜ.

F.

Initial F remains.

FACCE, FĂCCIJA; FURNA(RE); FASTÍDEJE, FASTİDIO.

When re-enforced F initial usually becomes FF. CHÊ FFAI?

FR initial remains or becomes VR. Often after F or V we have metathesis of an R originally final in the syllable or even belonging to the following syllable, resulting in initial FR, VR instead of F or V.

FRÂTE; FRÂSCHE; FRAVECA, fabbrica; FREBBÂRE, febbraio; FREVA, FRÊVE, FRÊME, febbre; VROCCA, forca; VRÈCCÌA, freccia.
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

Note 1.) D'Ovidio notes M PACCLA (in faccia) for Campobasso.

Note 2.) PRÓSPERO, fosforo, is heard in Terra di Lavoro and Naples.

When re-enforced FR initial usually becomes FFR.

FL initial regularly becomes SCI in Naples, part of Terra di Lavoro, and Molise. It becomes FI in Latium, Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata; FL or FI in Teramo; FL, FR, and FI in Chieti.

(Campobasso) SCIUCCÁ(RE), fioccare; SCIÓRE, fiore.
(Naples) SCIUCCÁ(RE); SCIÓRE; SCIAMMA, fiamma, SCIUME, SCIÚMMO, fiume.
(Alatri) FIUCCA(RE); FIÓRE; FIAMMA; FIOME.
(Teramo) FLÒRE, FIÓRE; FLAMME, FIAMME.
(Chieti) FLÒRE, FIAURE; FLAMME, FRAMME; FRÚMME, fiume.

V.

Initial V usually remains, but is sometimes confused with B, especially when doubled. Before O (rarely before I) it may become U or disappear. In the provinces of Molise, Chieti, and Teramo it often appears as M, especially if there is a nasal in the following syllable.

(Campobasso) VACCA; VILLA; CHÈ BBUO', che vuoi? ÓCE, voce; OLEPA, volpa; MENI(RE), venire.
(Teramo, Chieti) VACCHE; VILLE; CHÈ BBUO?; MENI(RE); HÓLBE, HÓLEPE.

VR initial remains. Metathesis of an R originally final in the syllable or even belonging to the following syllable is frequent, the result being initial VR.

VRIOGNÁ, vergogna; VRÍTO, VRÍTE, vetro.

D.

Initial D becomes a voiced dental spirant or R in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, and Molise. In the Abruzzo of Aquila it may become a spirant or R or disappear. entirely. In the provinces of Macerata, Ascoli, Teramo, and Chieti it usually remains, though sometimes weakened.

(Campobasso) DICE(RE), RICE(RE); DA', RA', da.
(Naples) DICE(RE); RICE(RE); DA', RA'.
(Arpin) RICE(RE); DONGO, do; RIE', DIE', diede.
(Aquila, Avezzano) ICO, RICO, DICO.
(Teramo, Chieti, Ascoli, Macerata) DICE(RE); DA(RE).

Note 1.) The tendency towards the spirant or R extends as far as Terracina, Frosinone, and Alatri. Rieti and Norcia show a tendency towards the disappearance of initial D.

Note 2.) Teramo and Chieti present some forms with T. DALEFINE, TALEFINE, delfino.

Note 3.) When re-enforced initial D usually remains, and is sometimes doubled.

DR initial is kept.

DRUGARIA, DRUGAREJE; DRAPPARIA, DRAPPAREJE.

T.

Initial T remains. When re-enforced it is sometimes doubled.

TAVULA, TAVELE; TAGLIA, TAJA; TÜ; E TTÜ.

Note.) Finamore notes CHIORTA, torta; CIAMBANE, tafano; CESTONGLA, testuggine, as co-existent with the regular forms.

TR initial remains.

TROJA; TRATTA(RE).

Note.) The form RETELLA, trottola, is noted by Parodi for Arpino.

L.

Initial L remains in most of the territory. However in the provinces of Terra di Lavoro and Aquila and occasionally in those of Teramo and Chieti it develops a palatal quality shown by the spelling LJ. This sometimes further develops into J (Y) which in pretonic syllables combines with a following E, O, or U, then disappears, leaving initial I instead of the original vowel.

LUNA, LJUNA, JUNA; (U)LEVETO, LJEVETO, IVETO; LUCERTA, LJUCERTA, ICERTA.

Note 1.) This development is most regular in the vicinity of Arpino, though we may also note Teramano JUJJJE (loliun).

Note 2.) RIALE, leale, noted by Ceci for Alatri, is probably influenced by, or confused with REALE (regalem).

M.

Initial M remains.
MARE; MILO, MILE, melo; MANO, MANE.

Note.) When re-enforced it is doubled.
A MMÆ; A MMORTE.

MB, MV, NV becoming initial become MM.
MMASCIATA, MMASCIATE, ambasciata; MMITA-(RE), invitare.

MBL becoming initial usually becomes MBI. MBR becoming initial remains.
MBIANCA(RE), imbiancare; MBRIACA(RE), umbriacare.

MM or NM becoming initial remains as MM.
MMERITARSE (inmeritare-+se).

MP becoming initial remains in Naples but may become MB elsewhere.
MPALA(RE), MBALA(RE); MPÆGNO, MBÆGNE.

MPL becoming initial becomes NCHI in Naples, NCHI or NGHI in the province of Naples and most of Terra di Lavoro, NGHI in Molise and occasionally in Teramo and Chieti, MPI in most of Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata, MBI in Teramo and Chieti and occasionally in Aquila, Ascoli, and Macerata.
(Campobasso) NGHIASTE, impiastro; NGHIANTA(RE), impiantare.
(Naples) NCHIASTRO; NCHIANTA(RE).
(Arpino) NCHIÁSTRO; NCHIÁNTA(RE).
(Aquila, Alatri) (I)MPIÁSTRO; (I)MPIÁNTA(RE).
(Teramo, Chieti) MBIAHTA(RE); MBIANÁ(RE), impianare; NGHIÁSTRE; MPIÁSTRE.
Note.) We also find MPR, MBR.
MPIEGA(RE), MPREGA(RE), MBREGA(RE).

N.

Initial N remains. When re-enforced it is usually doubled.
NÁSO, NÁSE; NATÓRA, NATURÉ; NÚJE, noi; A
NNÚJE, a noi.
Note.) It disappears in UN, non.

NC becoming initial develops as Tuscan NC or becomes NG.
NCATENA(RE), NGATENA(RE); NCE, NGE, non c'è; NCURÁBBLE, NGURABBELE; NGERÁTE, incerata.

NCL becomes NCHI, but in the provinces of Terra di
Lavoro, Aquila, Teramo, and Chieti we also find NGHI, GN.
NCHIÓSTRO, NGHIÓSTRO, GNÓSTRE; NCHIUVA-
(RE), NGHIUVÁ(RE), inchiudere.

NCR becoming initial may become NGR.
NCREStá(RE), NGRESpa(RE).

ND becoming initial remains if the word has been regarded as a compound with the prefix IN-, otherwise it becomes NN.
NDERIZZO; NDUVINO; NNÓSTRIA, industria;
NNÓGGLA, NNÚJE (inductilem?).

NF becoming initial remains.
NFADÚSO, NFADÚSE (infadosum).

NFL becoming initial becomes NFR or NFI
NFRAGRÁNTE, (inflagrantem); NFIAMMA(RE).

NFR becoming initial remains.
NFRÁTTO.

NG becoming initial remains, the G developing as in Tuscan.
NGANNA(RE); NGEGNÁRSE.
NGR becoming initial remains.
NGRATO; NGRILLARSE.

NN becoming initial remains.
NNATO, NNATE, innato; NNAMURARSE.

NQU becoming initial remains in Naples, Macerata, and Ascoli; elsewhere it may become NGU.
NQUILINO, NGUILINE; NQUARTA(RE), NGUARTÁ(RE); NQUANTO, NGUANDO, NGUÁNDE.

NS becoming initial remains as NZ (written NS or NZ).
NSEGNA(RE), NZEGNA(RE); NSÚRDO, NZÚLDÉ, insulto.

NT becoming initial remains in Naples, Ascoli, and Macerata. Elsewhere it may become ND.
NTAGLIO, NTÁJO, NDAGLIO, NDAJE; NTAMÁ(RE), NDAMÁ(RE).

NTR, NDR remain in Naples, Ascoli, and Macerata. Elsewhere they are usually confused, giving NDR.
(Naples) NTRUNA(RE), intronare; NTRUVULA(RE) (inturpidare); NDREA, Andrea.
(Teramo) NDRAVEDÉ(RE), intravedere; NDRÈJE, Andrea; NDRAPI(RE).

NV becoming initial becomes MM.
MMIT(T)Á(RE), invitare; MMENTA(RE), inventare.
Note.) NV often remains in the provinces of Macerata, Ascoli, and the Northern part of Aquila.

R.

R initial generally remains. In the provinces of Macerata, Aquila, Ascoli, Teramo, Chieti, and Molise it is re-enforced and frequently develops a prefixed A-.
ROSA, ROSE; RE, RRE, ARRE.
Note.) In Naples it occasionally becomes L.
LEBBRECA, replica; LEPRÜBBECA, repubblica.
Note 2.) In Arpino we occasionally find D.
DEMERIO, rimedio; DECREÁ(RE), ricriare.

SFR and XFR becoming initial remain as SFR, the S being usually slightly palatalized.
ŠFRENA(RE); ŠFRATTO, ŠFRATTE.

SG and XG before A, O, and U remain as SG, the S being somewhat palatalized.
ŠGUMMA(RE).

SGR and XGR becoming initial remain as SGR.
ŠGRANÀ(RE); ŠGRAVA(RE).

SL and XL becoming initial remain as SL. Original SL initial developed into SCL, SCHI.
ŠLAVA(RE) (exlavare); ŠCLAVE, ŠCHIAVO (slavum).

SM and XM becoming initial remain as SM, the S being slightly palatalized.
ŠMANIA(RE); ŠMORZA(RE).

SP and XP becoming initial remain as SP, the S usually being palatalized.
ŠPÀLLA, ŠPÀLLE; ŠPÀNNE(RE).

SPL and XPL becoming initial result in SCHI, SBR, or SBI in Naples, Terra di Lavoro, and Molise; SPI, SPR, SPL in Ascoli, Macerata, and most of Aquila; and SBI, SBL,
ABRUZZESE

SBR (occasionally SPI, SPL, SPR) in Teramo and Chieti. In all districts the S is usually somewhat palatalized.

SCHIANA (RE), spianare; SCHIANTA (RE), SPIANTA (RE); S BRENNORE, SBIANNORE, splendore; SPIAZZA, SPIAZZE.

SPR and XPR becoming initial remain as SPR or SBR, the S being slightly palatalized.

SPRUVARSE; SBRUVARSE.

ST and XT becoming initial remain as ST, in which the S is usually palatalized.

STA (RE); STRACHINO, STRACHINE.

SV and XV becoming initial give SB or SV.
SBAN1 (RE), SVANI (RE); SBENTURA, SVENTURA.

Note.) In Ascoli, Macerata, and the Northern part of Aquila SV is more frequent than SB.

C.

Initial C before A, O, and U remains. When re-enforced it is usually doubled.

CAVA (RE); CONTA, CONTE; CAJETANO, CAJE- TANE; A CCAJETANO.

Note 1.) Finamore quotes examples of QU, before A.
QUAVALLE, cavallo; QUASTELLE, castello; QUAFE, caffè; QUASTICHE, castigo; QUAPELLE, cappello.

Initial C before E and I generally develops as in Tuscan.
CERCA (RE); CITTA, CITÀ; CIMA, CIME.

Note 1.) Finamore notes CHJIERCHIE, CHJICH- JIERCHIA, cerchio; CHIURMA, cuurma; CHIOCHIA in which we find CH (K).

CL initial appears as CHI, occasionally CL or CR.
CHIAVE; CHIARO, CHIARE; CLEMENDINA; CRIMMA, clima.

Note 1.) The words showing CL or CR are mostly patri- cian, though CL may be regular in Teramo.
Note 2.) When re-enforced initial CL becomes CCHI, CCL, or CR.

CR initial remains.
CRJATURA, CRJATUBE; CROCE; E CROCE.

G.

G initial before A, O, and U generally remains in Naples, Terra di Lavoro, most of Aquila, Macerata, and Ascoli, but usually disappears in Teramo, Chieti, and Molise except after words which call for the doubling of the initial consonant. In accented syllables the vowel becoming initial develops a Y or H before it.

(Naples) GAMMA, gamba; GUMMA; GAMMARO, AMMARO.
(Campobasso) JAMMA; JUMMA; JAMMERE, JAMMARE.
(Chieti) HAMMA, JAMMA; HUMMA; HUMME; HAMMERE, JAMMERE.

G initial before E and I usually becomes J, but we often find G. When re-enforced it becomes G or GG.

(Naples) GEMIELLO; GENTE, JENTE; GENNERO, JENNERO.
(Campobasso) JELATE; JENNERE, JENNARE; E GGENERE.
(Teramo) JELA(RE); JETTA(RE); JENNERE.

Note.) JE GGHIELATE (pl.) (Campobasso) is probably due to analogy with JACCIO, JACCE (glacies) which is regularly GGHIAECIO after a word which calls for the doubling of the initial consonant.

GL initial regularly becomes J or GLI (rarely GHI), but GGH after a word which calls for the doubling of the initial consonant.

JACCIO; E GGHIAECCE; GLIANDRA; E GGHIAENDRE.

GN (Lat. NY) becoming initial develops as Tuscan GN. GNOPATE, signor padre; GNORE, signore.
Note.) Teramo presents GNAGNE(RE), piangere; GNUTTUNI(RE), divenire ghiotto, which are interesting.

GR initial may remain or become R. After a word which calls for the doubling of the initial consonant we find GR, GGR.

GRAZIA, RAZIA, RAZEJE; GRATO, RATO; GRATTA(RE), RATTÁ(RE); NU GRANO, NU RANO; TRE GRANE, TRE GGRANE.

J and DI.

Latin J and DI (DY) initial become J. When re-enforced they give GGI, GGHI.

JÚSTO; & GGIÚSTO, & GGHIÚSTO; JETTA(RE); JETTATÚRA.

Note.) This tendency is noted as far as Alatri, Guarcino, Fara, Rieti, Terni, Todi, Camerino, Matelica, Fabriano, Arcevia, and Recanati.

QU.

Latin QU generally remains before A. Before other vowels it usually becomes C, CH (K) except in patrician and learned words. When re-enforced it becomes CQU, CCH (KK).

(Naples) QUASE; QUAGLIO; CHÍSTO, CHÉSTA; QUIBUS.

(Campobasso) QUANDE; QUISTE, CHÍSTE, CHÉSTA; CACCHE, QUACCHE, qualche.

(Chieti) CANDE, QUANDE; QUATRE; QUERCHE, CÉRCA, CÉRQUA (showing metathesis).

(Teramo) QUANNE; QUATTRE; CACCHE, qualche; CÉRQUE, quercia.

Note.) From the foregoing examples it is seen that we often find C, CH before A and QU before other vowels.
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

MEDIAL CONSONANTS.

B.

Intervocalic B may give B, BB, V, P, M, MM. The normal results are BB and V. B and P occur most frequently in Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Ascoli, and Macerata and M, MM in Molise, Chieti, and Teramo.

(Naples) ABBELE, abile; ABBELITA; SAPETO, SABBETO, sabato; ABETO, abito.

(Camp.) CARVÓGNE, carbonchio; ABBELE; ABBETE.

(Chieti) ABBETE; ABBUSO; JIPPÔNE, giubbone; AMMARCA(RE), abarcare; AMMUCA(RE), aboccare; FRÈME, febbre; (cf. Neap.) FRÈVA).

(Teramo) LIBBERTA; NÔBB/L/E; FRÈME.

Note.) In the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti and part of Molise the B intervocalic of the Imperfect Indicative has become a simple aspirate.

FACIAHAME, facevamo; CANTAHAME, cantavamo.

BR and BL intervocalic usually become BBR.

CELEBBRA(RE); L1BBRE; UBBRICA(RE), obbligare.

Note 1.) In Campobasso we find NEGGHLA and in Naples NEGGLA co-existent with the less common NÈBBLA (nebula).

Note 2.) FRAVECA(RE), fabbricare; FRÈVA, FRÈME, febbre; PRUBBECÀ(RE), pubblicare, show metathesis as a result of which we have intervocalic B which then develops along the lines already noted.

BI and BBI intervocalic become GGI, J, GGHI. The normal development for Naples and Terra di Lavoro is GGI, although J occurs, and occasionally GGHI. The normal development for Molise and the Abruzzi is J, although GGI frequently occurs, and GGHI occasionally.

(Naples) RAGGLA; CAGGLA; AGGIO; MANAGGLA, MANÁJA.

(Camp.) (AR)RAJA; CAJOLA; AJE; SUGGETTE, SUGGITO.
ABRUZZESE

(Guarino) (AR)RAJA; AJO; AGGIO.
(Mogliano) (AR)RAGGHIÀ, (AR)RAJA; AGGHIÀ.

P.

P intervocalic usually remains except in the provinces of Teramo and Chieti where it may become PP, BB, or V.

(Naples) ACCUPÀ(RE); CUPÌRÒTO; CAPEPUÓSTO.
(Chieti) CAPEPOPOLE; OPPÈNÈJÔNE; DESCIBBELE, discipolo; NABBELE, Napoli; ARECUVERÀ(RE), ricuperare; CUVEÈRTA.

PP intervocalic usually remains.
CAPPELLÔTO, CAPPELLÔTE; APPURTA(RE).

PI, PPI, DPI intervocalic usually become CCI, occasionally GGI. (In borrowed words we may find PPI).
SACCIO, SACCE; SECCIÀ, SECCE; ASSAGGIÀ(RE).

PL, PPL, DPL intervocalic may become CCHI, PPI, PPL, PPEL, PPR, or BBR.
The development into CCHI is most common in compounds and usually represents PL initial in the unpounded word. This development is found in the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, and Molise, and the Southern parts of Aquila and Chieti.
ACCHIANA(RE), appianare; ACCHIANTA(RE), appiantare. ACCOCCHIA(RE), ACCOPPIÀ(RE); COCCHIÀ, COPPIÀ.
The development into PPL, PPEL is almost entirely confined to the provinces of Teramo and Chieti.
APPLANÀ(RE); ACCUPPELÀ(RE), accoppiare.
The forms showing PPR, BBR are widespread and are often co-existent with those showing other developments.
ACCUPPRÀ(RE); APPRANÀ(RE); ALLÈBBRECA, replica.
PR, PPR intervocalic remain or become BBR.
CUPRÌ(RE); LÈPRE, LÈBBRE; APRÌLE, ABBRÌLE.
PS becomes SS as in Tuscan.
ISSO, ESSA; SCRISSE.

PT becomes TT as in Tuscan.
ADDUTTA(RE); SCRITTO, SCRITTE.

F.

Intervocalic F usually remains.
CAFONE, CAFOUNE.

FF, DF intervocalic usually remain as FF.
CAFFE; AFFUCÁ(RE), affogare; AFFIDÁ(RE).

FL and FFL (DFL) intervocalic become SCI, FFR, FFI, FFL.

The development into SCI is limited to the provinces of Naples, Molise, and parts of Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, and Chieti.
(Campobasso) SCIUSCIÁ(RE) (which shows also assimilation of the initial consonant of sufflare).
(Naples, Camp.) ASCIÁ(RE) (adflare).

The other developments are found throughout the territory.
(Naples) AFFREZIONE, AFFLEZIONE; AFFIAMMA-(RE).
(Teramo) AFFLITTE; AFFLÁ(RE); AFFIANGHE, AFFLANGHE.

FR, FFR, (DFR) remain.
ADDEFRESCA(RE), rinfrescare; AFFRÚNTO, AFFRÚNTE; AFFRANCA(RE), AFFRANGÁ(RE).

V.

Intervocalic V usually remains. It occasionally disappears, especially when adjacent to U. In the provinces of Teramo, Chieti, and Molise we occasionally find M.
ADDEVENTÁ(RE); ADDÚVINA(RE); ARRUIÑÁ-(RE).
(Teramo, Chieti, Campobasso) (A)RIMENÍ(RE), rivenire.

VV (DV) intervocalic usually becomes BB.
ABRUZZESE

ABBIA (RE), avviare; ABBALLE, avvalle; ABBIENTO, avvento.

Note.) Occasionally we find MM in Teramo, Chieti, and Molise.

AMMEN1 (RE), avvenire.

D.

Intervocalic D may remain, or become a voiced dental spirant, or a weak R, or it may lose its voice and become T, or it may lose its force still more and become a very indistinct sound designated by V, or it may disappear entirely. On the other hand it may become DD.

In most of the provinces of Naples, Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, and Molise, the usual development is into a dental spirant or R before the accent, and into T after the accent. This cannot however be stated as a phonetic law.

(Naples) ACCADÉ (RE); ADDĒDECA; MARONNA, MAĐONNA; ACCARÈMIA, ACCADÈMIA; AFFERA-(RE), AFFEDÀ (RE); CATÀVERE; GRATETÔTENE; STÔPETO, stupido; FRACETO, fradicio; PARA VISO, paradiso; AUNÍ (RE), adunire; AORNÁ (RE), adornare; ADDÔRE, odore; CRÈDETO, CRÈDETO, CRÈRETO, CRÈDDETO.

In Macerata, Ascoli, Teramo, and Chieti the more common development is into D before the accent, and T after the accent. SUDA (RE); HUDÈ(RE), JUDÈ(RE), godere; NÛTE, nudo; PÊTE, piede; RÎTE(RE), ridere.

Note.) Notable exceptions are Neapolitan TIÈPULO, tepido; Terra di Lavoro ARPINO (Elpidium); Teramano FRÁCECHE (Néap.) FRÁCETO.

DR intervocalic usually remains, but in Neapolitan it may become TR.

ALESSANDRO, ALESSANTRO; CUCCUDRILLO, CUCCUTRILLO.

Note.) In CUCCUDRILLO, etc., we note metathesis.
DD intervocalic usually remains.
ADDE(V)E; ADDEEFFENN(NE)(RE).

DI, DJ intervocalic become GGHI, J, GGI, DI, or DDJ.
GGHI rarely appears except in compounds representing Latin AD- + J initial.
AGGHIUDECA(RE); AGGHIÓGNE(RE), aggiungere; AGGHIUŠTA(RE).

J is the regular intervocalic development for popular words.
AP(P)OJÀ(RE), appoggiare; AP(P)ÓJO; ÚJE, oggi.

The forms showing GGI are probably borrowed, while those showing DI, DDJ are patrician.
AP(P)OGGIA(RE); GUARDIA; CUMMÍĐIA, CUM-MEDDIA.
Note.) MIEZO, MÉZA show Z.

DM intervocalic becomes MM.
AMMUBIGLIA(RE); AMMIRA(RE); AMMERETÀ-(RE).

DN intervocalic becomes NN.
ANNÚDO; ANNUMERA(RE); ANNOTA(RE).

T.

Intervocalic T usually remains, even where it has become D in Tuscan.
STRATA, STRATE (STRADA is probably borrowed); SPATA, SPATE, etc.

Note 1.) Occasionally we find a weak voiceless velar.
VUMECÀ(RE), vomitare; VOMEÇO, VOMEÇEHE.

Note 2.) Finamore also notes DÖDDA, dote; PATANA, patata; RÍZZA, rete (retia?); RÔCELE, rotolo. SCHIA-
MAZZA(RE), scamatare, is common to most of the territory.

TR intervocalic may remain or become T. In the provinces of Macerata, Ascoli, Teramo, and most of Chieti and Aquila it usually remains unless the R is misplaced by metathesis (as in PRETA, pietra). Forms showing DR may be Tuscan borrowings.
ABRUZZESE

MATRE; PATRE; LATRE, LATRO.
It usually becomes T in Neapolitan, and frequently in Terra di Lavoro, Molise, and Southern Aquila and Chieti.
MATE; PATE; LATE, LATRE, LATRO; PATINO, PATRINO.

TT and TU intervocalic become TT.
ATTENÉ(RE); BATTE(RE).

TY intervocalic may become Z, ZZ, ZI, ZZI, SCI, or GI.
ABBIZIA(RE), avvizziare; ACCAREZZA(RE); AGGRA-ZIA(RE); AMICIZIA; APPREZZA(RE); ACCURTÉZZA; ASSULUZIONE; STASCIONE, STAGIONE.

ABBLE; UCCHIALE, UCCHIARE, occhiale.

LL intervocalic remains.
ABBALLO, ÅBBÅLLE, a valle; ALLARIÁ(RE).

LB intervocalic may be confused with RB.
ALBA, ARBA; ALBERO, ARBERO.

LC intervocalic before A, O, and U often becomes RC, sometimes RG.
SORCO; BALCÔNE, BARCÔNE, BARGÔNE.

LC intervocalic before E and I may develop in Neapolitan into UC (in which the C has the sound of Roman C before E and I) and then lose its U after O or U. In the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti we find GG, GGI.

ADDCI(RE), addolcire; DOCE, dolce; CAUCE, CAGGE, calce; FAUCE, FÁGGE, falce.

Note.) In Molise we may find UC retained after O in an accented penult.
DOUCE, ROUCE.

LD intervocalic may become RD or UD in Naples, Molise, most of Terra di Lavoro, and parts of Aquila and Chieti. Elsewhere it becomes LL as in Roman.
FARDA, FAUDA, FALLA; CAUDO, CARDO, CALLO, CALLE.

LG intervocalic develops as in Tuscan. Occasionally we find RG.

LNE intervocalic develops as in Tuscan. BÁGNO, BÁGNE.

LM intervocalic may become MM. AMMÈNO, almeno.

LP intervocalic may become RP or UP (LEP, LB in the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti).

NCURPA(RE), NGULPA(RE) (inculpare); ASSARPA(RE); VORPE, HÔLBE, HÔLEPE, volpe.

LS intervocalic may become RZ or UZ (ZZ in the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti).

FARZO, FAUZO, FÀZZE, false; BÀRZEMO, BÀZZEME, balsamo; PÔRZO, PÔZO, PÔZZO, polso.

LT intervocalic may become UT, T, RT, RD (DD in the Abruzzi of Teramo and Chieti).

ATO, AUTO, AUTRO, ANDRE, altro.

LV intervocalic may become RV- (except in Teramo and Chieti where LV usually remains).

ASSORVE(RE), ASSOLVE(RE); PÔRVA, PÔLVE.

LY, LE, LI intervocalic becomes J, JJ (Y, YY) in most of Macerata, Ascoli, Teramo, Chieti, and Aquila; GLI (LY) in Naples, Molise, and most of Terra di Lavoro.

MÈJO, MEJJE, MÈGLIO; BATTAJÀ, BATTAJE, BATTAGLIA.
Note.) Under L and L-combinations Finamore notes: ATRE, AVETRE, AITE, AITRE, AUTE, AUTRE, altro; SCUTA(RE), ascoltare; CAPESTA(RE), calpestare; COTÉ, colto; DÔCE, DÔLGE, dolce; PÔCE, polce; ÚTEME, ÚDDEME, ultimo; CACCHE, qualche; CALGE, calce; FALZE, falso; ALDARE, ARDARE, altare; PULDRONA, poltrona; CARZETTA, calzetta; SENARE, signale; ARDO, AVETE, alto; VÔLDE, volta; CURTELLE, coltello.

M.

Intervocalic M usually remains, and is often doubled. ANEMA; AMMÔRE; NNAMURATO, NNAMMURATO.

MM, DM remain as MM.

AMMETTE(RE); AMMALINCUNIRSE.

MB intervocalic becomes MM.

GAMMA, HAMMA, gamba; AMMASCLA, ambascia; BOMMA, BOMME, bomba; CUMMATE(RE), combattere.

MBI intervocalic becomes GN (NY).

CAGNA(RE); SCAGNO, SCAGNE.

MP intervocalic may remain or be confused with MB.

ABBAMPÁ(RE), avvampare; ACCAMPÁ(RE), ACCAMBA(RE); CAMPO, CAMBO.

MPL intervocalic may become MPR, MBR, MPL, MBL, or MPI.

MPR, MBR are the usual developments except in Teramo and Chieti where we find MPL, MBL. The forms showing MPI are probably influenced by the Tuscan.

CUMBRIMIENTO, CUMPRIMIENTO, CUMPLIMENTE, CUMBLIMÈNDE; ASSEMPIA; COMBLOTE, CUMBROTE, CUMPLOTE.

Note.) JEGNE(RE) (implere) shows GN.

MPR intervocalic usually remains before the accent, but may become MP after the accent, especially in the vicinity of Naples.

AMPRÉSA, impresa; SÈMPRE, SÈMPE.
MN intervocalic becomes NN as in Tuscan.
DANNA(RE).
Note.) Finamore quotes examples of M becoming N.
NÚSCA, musca; NA, come; TÍJANE, (tегамен); PANDUMÍNE.

N.
N intervocalic usually remains. It may be doubled.
ANEMA; ANÓRE, ANNÓRE, onore.
NB intervocalic usually becomes MM.
IMMOCHE, in bocca.
NC intervocalic before A, O, and U remains in the city of Naples, but is confused with NG in the rest of the territory.
AMMANCA(RE), AMMANGA(RE); JÁNCO, JÁNGO.
NC intervocalic before E and I becomes NC or NZ in Naples. Elsewhere it becomes NG.
ABBENCE(RE), ABBENGE(RE), vincere; PÁNZA, PÁNCLÁ, PÁNGLA.

ND intervocalic becomes NN.
QUÁNNO, QUÁNNE, quando; ABBANNUNÁ(RE);
ABBUNNA(RE), abbondare.

NF intervocalic remains, or becomes MB (especially in Teramo, Chieti, and Molise).
CUNFERMA(RE), CUMBERMA(RE); CUNFESSA(RE), CUMBESSA(RE).

NG intervocalic before A, O, and U generally remains.
ALLUNGA(RE); LÚNGO.

NG intervocalic before E and I usually becomes GN (NY), sometimes NG as in Literary Tuscan.
PLÁNGNE(RE), PRÁNGNE(RE), CHIÁNGNE(RE); ÁS-TRÍNGNE(RE); ÁNGÉLÉCO.
Note.) By analogy we have CHIÁNGNO, etc., in verbs.

NP intervocalic usually gives MP in Naples, MB elsewhere.
IMPIÉTTO, IMBÉTTE, in petto.
ABRUZZESE

NQU intervocalic remains in Naples, but usually becomes NGU elsewhere.
CINQUE, CINGUE.

NS intervocalic remains or becomes NZ.
ACCUNSENTI(Re); PENZA(Re); NZENZATO, NZENZATE.

NT intervocalic usually remains in Naples, but elsewhere it is confused with ND.
ACCANTO, ACCANDO; QUANTO, QUANDO, QUANDE.

NTR intervocalic may become NT, ND, especially after the accent.
DINTO, DINDO, DINDE, dentro.
Note.) In Teramo and Chieti we find NDR. DÆNDRÆ.

THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

MARCLA, MARZA; PERZO, per ciò.

RD intervocalic usually remains.
ACCURDÀ(RE); ABBUÒRDÒ, ABBÒRDE.

FR intervocalic remains. SCARFÀ(RE).

RG intervocalic before A, O, and U may remain or become RI.
LARGO, LARIO; ALLARGA(RE), ALLARIÁ(RE).

RG before E and I develops as in Tuscan.
SÖRGE(RE).

RL intervocalic usually remains. PARLA(RE).

RM intervocalic usually remains. ALLARME.

RN intervocalic usually remains.
ATÉRNO, eterno; ATTUÒRNO, ATTÒRNE.

RP intervocalic usually remains, but may become RB.
CUÒRPO, CÒRPE, CUÒRBO, CÒRBE.

RS intervocalic may become RZ.
ARZÈNICO; ARZO, ARZE, arso.

RT intervocalic usually remains in Naples, but is elsewhere confused with RD.
SPIRITO, SPIRDE; ACCERTÀ(RE), ACCERDÀ(RE); ACCUÒRTO, ACCÒRDE.

Note.) As metathesis of R is very frequent and often occurred early we often find R combinations reducing and then developing as if there had been no original R in that combination. Metathesis usually results in shifting the R towards the beginning of the word.
PREÒTA, pietra; PREÒVULA, PREÒHULA, pergola; TRUMMENDÀ(RE), tormentare; VRIOGNA, VRE-VOGNA, vergogna.

When two R's occur in the same word one is frequently changed to L by dissimilation.
CULECARSE, coricarse; VELARDINE, Berardino.

S.

S intervocalic usually remains. It is seldom fully voiced and therefore is occasionally confused with SS. It is often palatalized, especially in words beginning with C, CH, and QU.

ABBUSĀ(RE); AMUSA(RE), AMMUSSĀ(RE); QUĀSE, QUASCE; CUSĪ, CUSCĪ; ACCUSĪ, ACCUSCĪ.

SS intervocalic usually remains, but may be palatalized.

FŌSSĀ, FŌSSE; TŌSSĀ, TŌSSE; CASSĒTTA, CASSĒTTA; ABBASCIO; RŪSSO, RŪSCΕ.

Note.) In POZZO (possum) we find ZZ (poteo?).

SC before A, O, and U remains. The S may be palatalized.

ABBUSCĀ(RE); AFFUSCĀ(RE), offuscare.

SC before E and I generally develops as in Tuscan.

CANŌSCE(RE), conoscere.

ST intervocalic remains, the S being somewhat palatalized.

ABBASTA(RE); ACCUSTA(RE), accostare.

STR intervocalic often becomes ST, especially after the accent. The S is usually somewhat palatalized.

MASTO, maestro; (I)NCHIASTO.

SY, SE, SI intervocalic usually become S with little or no palatalization.

CERĀSO (ceraseum), VĀSO, bacio.

C.

Intervocalic C before A, O, and U generally remains.

ACO, ACHE, ago; LUÒCO, LUÒCHE, luogo.

Intervocalic C before E and I develops as in Roman.

DICE, RICE, ICE; ABBECENA(RE), avvicinare.

CC before A, O, and U generally remains.

ACCASIÓNΕ, occasione; ACCAĐΕ(RE).

CC before E and I becomes ZZ or CC, CCI.

AZZETTA(RE), accettare; ACCIDΕNTE, ACCIDΕNDE.
CL, CCL (DCL) develop as in Tuscan into CCHI.
MACCHIÁ; UÓCCHIO, ÚCCHIE.

CR intervocalic usually remains. It may be confused with GR.
LACREME, LAGREME; SACRATA(RE), SAGRATA-(RE), bestemmiare.

CT intervocalic becomes TT as in Tuscan.
FATTO; TITTO, TATTE, tetto.

CTE, CTI intervocalic become ZZ or ZI.
ARRIZZA(RE) (adrectiare?); BENEDIZIONE.

CY, CE, CI intervocalic become CCI or ZZ.
FACCIA, FACCE, FAZZA, FAZZE; FRECCIA, FREZZA.

G.

The developments into G, C, and V are primarily Neapolitan, but are also to be noted in Terra di Lavoro, Aquila, Macerata, and Ascoli.

BRIGANTE, BRICANTE; STREGA, STRECA;
TÈCULA; STRÔLACO; SPÀVO, spago; PAVÀ(RE), PACA(RE), PAGÀ(RE).

The development into J belongs especially to Molise.
PRÈJELA, PRÈJULA (Neap. PRÈVULA), pergola;
FATEJA(RE), (CASTECA(RE) and LETECA(RE), found in this district, may be borrowings from Neapolitan).

The development into H is regular in Teramo and Chieti.
FEHÔRE, figura; MÀHE, mago.

G intervocalic before E and I may become J (Y) or GGI.
LEJE(RE), LÈGGE(RE); PROJE(RE), porgere;
PAJÉSE, PAJÉISE; PAGGENA.

Note.) The forms showing GG may be patrician.

GGL intervocalic may become GGHI.
AGGHIAJA(RE), agghiacciare.
ABRUZZESE

GN usually develops as Italian GN (NY). In Molise we often find JEN.
  LÈGNA, LÈJENA; PÒGNO, PÒJENE; AGNIÈLLO, AJENÍELLE.

GR intervocalic may become CR, GR, or R.
  AÇRO; TELÈCRÌFO; ANNEGRÌ(RE), ANNERÌ(RE);
  ALLERAMÈNTE, allegramente; VERBEGRÀZIA, VER-BeràZEJA.

GGR, DGR intervocalic become GGR.
  AGGRAZIÀ(RE); AGGRAVARàSE.

J.

Intervocalic J usually remains instead of becoming GGI as in Tuscan. It may be doubled.
  MAJO, MAJE, maggio; PEJO, PEJE, PEJJE, peggio.

J frequently appears as an hiatus-breaker, especially in Molise.
  VERBERÀZEJA; ANTÒNEJE, Antonio.

Note.) In Neapolitan PÈVO (pejus) we find V for J.

FINAL CONSONANTS have disappeared. S in accented syllables has, however, left a trace, appearing as I, E, JE.
  NÙI, NÙE, NÙJE, noi; VÙI, VÙE, VÙJE, voi.
CHAPTER III.

1 Open E and O are indicated by the grave accent ("'), close E and O by the acute ('). Where no accent is shown the pronunciation of the accented vowel has been noted to vary between open and close. Palatal S is shown by S. Indistinct vowels are shown as A, E, O, etc.

Neapolitan.

Tonic Vowels.

A.

Tonic A remains.

PATE, padre; SARVA(RE), salvare; MMACULATA, immacolata.

E (Open).

Tonic open E generally remains unless the vowel of the final Latin syllable was I or O (U), under which conditions it becomes IE.

Examples of the persistence of tonic open E: GALLENELLA; FRAVULELLELA, fragoletta; APERTA; CERTA.

Examples of diphthongization: GALLENIELLO; FRUSCIAMIENTO; FRATIELLO; APIERTO; CIERTO.

In hiatus tonic open E becomes I as in Tuscan.

MIO; MIA.

E (Close).

Tonic close E remains unless the vowel of the final Latin syllable was I or O (U), under which conditions it becomes I.

NIO, NERA; CHISTO, CHESTA, CHISTE (m. pl.), CHESTE (f. pl.); PIRO, pero; PERA; MILO, melo; MELA.

Note.) It will be seen from the last two of the foregoing examples that the form MELU(M) for MALUM must have been quite early.

72
Tonic I remains.
FINE; FILO; FILA; LINO.

O (Open).

Tonic open O generally remains unless the vowel of the final Latin syllable was I or O (U), under which conditions it becomes UO.
NUOVO, NOVA; PUORTO, PORTA; UOVO, OVA; UOSSO, OSSA; CORE, (Sing.), CUORE (pl.).
In hiatus it becomes U.
PUETA.

O (Close).

Tonic close O remains unless the vowel of the final Latin syllable was I or O (U), under which conditions it becomes U.
NUOSTRIOSO, NUOSTRIOSA, industrioso, -a; NFUMOSO, NFUMOSA, collerico, -a; NFAMONE.
TESTEMMONIO, is probably patrician.
In hiatus with I from -S final in accented syllables it forms the combination -UJE.
NUJE; VOJE.
In hiatus with -O (U) it forms -UJO, and with -A it forms -UJA.
SUJO, SOJA, suo, sua.

U.

Tonic U remains.
UNNECE, undici; STUFA; CURA.

Pretonic Vowels.
Initial.

Initial unaccented vowels tend to disappear. This is because in Neapolitan the final vowels are usually kept, although somewhat slighted, and the resultant hiatus in connected discourse has led to a weakening and final disappearance of the initial vowel. A and U seem to have resisted this tendency to fall much better than other vowels.
Pretonic Initial A.

Pretonic initial A usually remains.
AMMÔRE; AFFARE.
It falls in NATOMIÀ, anatomia; STROLACO, astrologo; STROLÀBIO (astrolabium).

Sometimes A appears instead of other pretonic initial vowels.
ASTRÈMO (extremum); ASÈMPIO (exemplum); AD-DIOTA, idota; ANCHI(RE) (implere); ACCIDE(RE) (occidere); ACCASIÓNÈ (occasionem); ASSURPA(RE) (usurpare).

Sometimes two forms exist side by side.
ATERNITÀ, ETERNITÀ; ACCELÈNTE, ECCELÈNTE; ACCHIÀLE, ACCHIÀRE, UCCHIÀLE, occhiale; ACCASIONÈ, UCCASIÓNÈ.

The forms with A- are probably plebeian while those which retain the general character of the Latin vowel are patrician.

Sometimes A becomes initial by the disappearance of the initial consonant (usually G-).
ALLÎNA, GALLÎNA; ÁLLO, GALLO; AMMARO, GÀMMARO, gambero. It will be noted that the forms with and without G- are coexistent.

Compounds with A+ a consonant (Latin AD-) are common.
ADDÔ, dove; ABBASTÀNTE; ACCANOSCE(RE); AMMANÇÀ(RE); ANNASCUOSTO, ANNASCUÓSO, di nascosto.

Pretonic Initial E.

Pretonic initial E is usually lost. Sometimes there are two existing forms, showing plebeian and patrician development.
TICHÈTTA, ETICHÈTTA; VANGÈLÒ, EVANGÈLÒ.

It remains in words which were used only by the educated.
ECONUMO; ELEVACIÓNÈ; EMBRÊMA, emblema; EQUIPÀGGIO; ERUDÌZIÓNÈ.

It sometimes becomes A-. For examples v. PRETONIC INITIAL A.
NEAPOLITAN

Pretonic Initial I.
Pretonic initial I usually falls except in the vocabulary of the educated. Sometimes two forms are coexistent. IMPIEGO, MPIEGO; INCANTO, NCANTO; INTRATA, NTRATA.

It sometimes becomes A-. For examples v. PRETONIC INITIAL A.

Pretonic Initial O.
Pretonic initial O usually becomes U. UBBERIENZA, ubbidienza; UBBRICAZIONE, obbligazione; UCCHIATA, occhiata; UNESTÀ, onestà; UFFRI-(RE), offrire.

It sometimes falls. NORE, onore; PENEJONE, opinione; RAZZEJONE (orationem).

It sometimes becomes A-. For examples v. PRETONIC INITIAL A.

Pretonic Initial U.
Pretonic initial U usually remains. UMORE.

It sometimes falls. NEVERZALE (universalem); NU (unum).

It is sometimes changed to A-. For examples v. PRETONIC INITIAL A.

Pretonic A non-initial remains. CAPIELLO; CAPILLO; GALANTE.

E.
Pretonic E non-initial remains.
DECISIONE; LENTÉZA; NEPOTE.

In hiatus it becomes I.
CRIÁ(RE), creare; CRIANZA.
THE DIALECTS OF CENTRAL ITALY

I.

Pretonic I non-initial generally remains.
FIDA(RE); FIDUCLA; FINBA.

Classic Latin short I (Vulgar Latin E) gives E.
TENTORE; DEFFECORTA, diffícultà; LETECA(RE), litigare.

O.

Pretonic O non-initial generally becomes U.
CUNTA(RE); CUNSOMO; CUNSIDERARE; FUNTANA.

U.

Pretonic U non-initial remains.
SUPINO; SUPERIORE; MURAGLIA.

Post-Tonic Vowels.

Post-tonic non-final A, E, I tend to become E unless followed by R, under which condition the tendency is towards A.
SABBETO, SAPETO, sabato; BLECA; ORGHENO (in URGANISTA the A is pretonic); MMAGENE; URDEMO, ultimo; JOVENE; ELLARA.
Post-tonic non-final O and U become U.
URACULO; UOVULO; MIRACULO.

Final.

Final unaccented vowels become obscure, but not entirely confused.

A.

Final unaccented A remains, although much obscured in pronunciation.
FILMA; MIA; EPISTULA.

E.

Final unaccented E remains, although much obscured.
FINE; UNZIONE.
NEAPOLITAN

I.

Final unaccented I is usually written E, although it is not to be confused with E coming from Latin E, as the E from Latin I produced a vowel change in the preceding tonic syllable (provided its vowel was E or O), while the E from Latin E causes no such development.

CHÎSTE (m. pl.)  CHÎSTE (f. pl.)
SÛJE (m. pl.)  SÔJE (f. pl.)
CHÎLLE (m. pl.)  CHÔLLE (f. pl.)
TÔJE (m. pl.)  TÔJE (f. pl.)

O.

Final unaccented O (generally representing Classic Latin short U) becomes obscured in sound and is usually pronounced as an indistinct U, although it is written as O. It produces a vowel change in the preceding tonic syllable (if the vowel of the tonic syllable was E or O).

PUORCO (m.)  PÔRCA (f.)
PUOSTO (m.)  PÔSTA (f.)
BUONO (m.)  BÔNA (f.)
UOVO (sing.)  ÔVA (pl.)

U.

Final unaccented U is confused with final unaccented O and produces the same results.
MANO; TIEMPO.

Consonants.

Consonants tend to lose their force and are often confused. This confusion is generally of the voiced with the voiceless consonants. Metathesis is very common, especially that of R, L and R are frequently confused.

Initial.

In dealing with the initial consonants one has to consider the position of the word in the sentence. At the beginning of a phrase or after a polysyllable we usually find what may be called the normal development. After many monosyllables however we notice a re-enforcement of the initial consonant which usually results in gemination. The most important of these words are B (est); E (illi, illae); A (ad); PE (per); CHE (quod, etc). O (illum) and A (illa) are followed by initial consonants showing normal development.

Note.) It will be seen that most of the cases of gemination are simple assimilation of the final sound of the monosyllable to the initial sound of the word following, but in E (illi, illae) it must be in compensation for the loss of a vowel quantity in the monosyllable.

B.

Initial B usually remains or is confused with V, which is generally bi-labial.

BAGNO; BALBSTRA; BANCO; BANNÉRA, bandera; BANNO, bando; VALLENA, BALLÉNA; VALICIA, BALCIA; BUOSCO, BUOSCO; VALANZA, bilanza; VARCA, barca; VASO, bacio (basium).

When re-enforced it becomes BB.
PE BBAGNÁ(RE); E BBÁRCHÉ.

BR initial remains or is confused with VR, sometimes with PR.

BRILLO; BROCCA; VRÁCCIO, braccio; VRÁNCA, branca; VRECCIA, breccia; BRUNÉLLA, PRUNÉLLA.

When re-enforced it becomes BR, BBR.
E (B)BRÁCCE; E (B)BRÁNCHÉ.

BL initial becomes J (Y) in purely plebeian words.
JANCO; JÁSTEMMA(RE) (blasphemare).

When re-enforced we find (G)GHI.
E (G)GHIANCHE ROSE.

In patrician words we have BI. This may however be simply a borrowing from the Tuscan.

BIÁVA, biada; BIANCO.
Note.) We also find the re-enforced form BBI which corresponds to normal BI.

F.

F initial normally remains. It is sometimes confused with V. Often after F or V initial we have metathesis of an R originally final in the syllable or even belonging to the following syllable and the result is the initial combination FR or VR.

FÔNTE; FÎNE; FERMATA; FÉSTÀ; VROCCA, forca; VRUCCATA, forcata; FRAVECA, fabbrica; FRAVAGLIERIA, farfaglieria; FRÊVA, febbre.

When re-enforced we often have FF.
CHE FFÎNO.

FL initial presents three developments. In purely plebeian words it becomes SCI; in purely Neapolitan patrician words it becomes FR; in words influenced by, or borrowed from the Tuscan, it becomes FI.

Plebeian words: SCIAMMA, fiamma; SCIANCO, fianco; SCIÖRE, fiore; SCIÖMMO, fiume.

Patrician words: FRAUTO, flauto; FRACCO, fiato; FRÂTO, fiato; FRÊMMA, flemma.

Words influenced by, or borrowed from, the Tuscan: FIANCO, cf. SCIANCO above; FIACCO, cf. FRACCO above; FIATO, cf. SCIATO, FRATO; FIOCCO, cf. SCIÓCCO.

When re-enforced we have SCI, FFR, FFI.
A SCIANCO, AFFRANCO, A FFIANCO.

FR initial remains. It is sometimes confused with VR.
FRÂTE; VRÔCCA, forca.

When it is re-enforced we may have FFR.
E FFRÂTE.

V.

V initial usually remains but is often confused with B, and occasionally with P. Metathesis of an R originally final in the syllable or even belonging to the following syllable is frequent, the result being initial VR.

VASO, bacio; VÁRCA, barca; VASCIELLO; VEDB-(RE); BALICLA, VALÍCIA, valigia; VROCCA, forca; VRITO, vetro; VRIOGNA, vergogna; VRÈCCLA, freccia.

When initial V is re-enforced the result is not noticeably different from the normal development, although occasionally we may hear BB.

Initial VR remains.

P.

Initial P remains, although weakened and often confused with B.

PUMATA; PONTE; PORCA; PORTA, BORTA.

When re-enforced it often becomes PP.

A PPARE; CHE PPORTA?

Initial PL presents three developments. In purely plebeian words it becomes CHI; in purely Neapolitan patrician words it becomes PR; in words influenced by, or borrowed from, the Tuscan it becomes PI.

Plebeian words: CHİÔVE(RE); CHIAGNE(RE); CHIU; CHIANO; CHIATTO.

Patrician words: PRATĽA; PRATANO; PRENARIO; PRICO, piego.

Words influenced by, or borrowed from, the Tuscan: PIACĚRĘ; PIANO; PIŤTTO.

As will be seen from the foregoing examples sometimes two forms are co-existent.

Note.) Especially interesting is the history of the Latin plebem which gives plebeian CHIEVE, "community", patrician PRÈBBBA, "lower classes."

When initial PL is re-enforced we find CCHI, PPR, PPI.

A CCHIAGNE(RE); CHĘ PPRÈBBBA; A PPIACĚRĘ.

Initial PR generally remains, although sometimes confused in pronunciation with BR. Metathesis of an R final in the sylable or even belonging to the following sylable is possible, resulting in initial PR instead of simple P.
PRÊTA, pietra; PREMONE (pulmones); PREVULĂ, pergola; PRUBBECA(RE), pubblicare.
When re-enforced it often becomes PPR.
E PPRÊTE; A PPRUBBECA(RE).

D.
Initial D remains or weakens into a spirant, or R.
DEVUZIONE; DOJE, due; DIGNO; RICE(RE); RIEBBETO, DIEBBETO; R'O, del.
When re-enforced it appears as D.
CHE DICITE?
DR initial occurs rarely. It is kept.
DRAÔNE, dragone; DRAPPARIA; DRUGARIA.

T.
T initial remains. There is often metathesis of an R final in the sylable or even belonging to the following sylable resulting in initial TR.
TIANO (tegamen); TICO (tecum); TERRA; TRIATO, teatro; TRÔVULO, torbido.
When re-enforced it appears as TT.
A TTÊ; A TTORNA(RE).
TR initial remains.
TRAFECA(RE); TRANSETO; TRÊNTA; TREZZA.
When re-enforced it sometimes appears as TTR.
E (T)TRÊZZE.

L.
L initial remains.
LABBRO; LACO; lago; LAGREMA; LÈGGE(RE); LIBBRO.
Re-enforced L initial becomes LL.
E (L)LAGREME; PE (L)LÈGGE(RE); A LLATO.
M initial remains although often weakened.
MATTINO; MATTO; MESSA; METTE(RE); MISCHIO.

When re-enforced it often appears as MM.
A MMÉ; A MMETTE(RE).

MB becoming initial becomes MM. So also MV and NV.
MMASCIATA, ambasciata; MMEDIA(RE), invidiare; MMITÁ(RE), invitare.
